RALPH McGILL

'Injun Joe' and Charley Trippi

A lady with a distinguished touch of gray in her hair came in to see me. She produced a somewhat faded picture of a slender young man in a Vanderbilt football suit. It was clipped from a newspaper. Underneath it were some lines. They read:

"McGill will start at guard today despite his handicap of weighing only 152 pounds."

Alas and alack. The lines were true. At least that was my weight in my freshman year—the last year freshmen could play on the varsity team. I would like to have back that same handicap.

When the lady, a friend of those days, was gone, I fell to reminiscing. Every time I do that a number of names and faces come back into the newsreel of my memory. I can see Gil Reece running through the big Minnesota team of 1924, which the Saturday before had defeated Illinois and Red Grange. I can see his yellow hair bouncing and blowing in the breeze. It was considered unmanly in those days to use so effeminate an item as a headgear. I can see the fierce face of Bill Fincher, of Georgia Tech, who was one of the great guards; and hear the rasp of canvas and breath hard and graspingly drawn as Chicago's great fullback Higgins came through off tackle. There are a lot of memories and some of them are painful. Scars from Higgin's cleats are yet on my body. Broken ribs and a cracked ankle have healed, though they serve to sharpen the memory.

But, from a lot of watching and a little experience as a not-very-good guard, I have very fixed opinions about the two best backs I ever saw. One I played against, and saw in other games. This was Joe Guyon. The other was Charley Trippi. Both happen to have played, respectively, with Georgia Tech and Georgia. This is but a geographic and athletic coincident. I saw Red Grange, Bo McMillin, George Gipp, Ernie Nevers, Don Zimmerman, Beattie Feathers, and others who were listed on the all-star teams of their day. Guyon and Trippi remain my choices.

Guyon

The Big Fox and Sac Indian was magnificent. About 6 feet, weighing close to 200 pounds, he was fast and powerful. He ran with his knees coming high. Many a man goes around today wearing a piece of bridgework because his face came in contact with one of Injun Joe's knees when that splendid aborignee was in full flight.

To a 152-pound guard, and to still others of greater weight, he was like one of Dunsany's Giants of the Mountain. It almost seemed one could hear his great stone feet pounding the turf. His high cheek bones, the copper skin of his face, seen beneath a headguard, made him look like one of the great carved statues of the Aztec Indians come to life and action. To see Big Joe coming and to go to meet him was an experience. He could pass and he could run. He made a lot of reputations for others by leading interference. He did not have to block too many. Those knees and a half-body block would send them flying. A puppy dog with the ball tied to his neck could have followed Injun Joe.

He is one of the few from the old game who could have stepped into the modern game without any hesitation at all. Joe was a fine fellow and a good companion.

Hunter

Once, in the early spring, Joe came to the late W. A. Alexander at Tech and borrowed $300. One of his relatives had been killed by Mexicans down on the border. He was gone all that spring and summer. That fall, a few days before football practice began, he reappeared. Thin, drawn, he was his usual stoical self.

"Where have you been, Joe?" asked Alex, tentatively.

"Mexico," he said. And that's all anyone ever got from him.

Alex always said he felt the black wing brush his cheek and he knew there were some dead Mexicans across the Rio Grande.

Trippi is of later days. This boy from Pennsylvania could do, and did do, everything superlatively well. He was the best, I believe, this modern game has produced. He added to the ability to pass, run, block, and tackle, a fine, natural intelligence and instinct for the game. I have not seen one in his league since he departed for pro ranks to prove there he was one of the college great.

Those are my two from out of the past.

As far as I am concerned they stand above all other backs I have ever seen.

Mother of Slaying Suspect Weeps for Family of Victim

By CELESTINE SIBLEY

A stocky, sensible little woman who turned her son over to authorities to face a charge of murder, buried her face in her hands and wept uncontrollably Friday afternoon—not for her son who was "the best little boy that ever lived," but for the family of the man he is accused of killing.

"Oh, why couldn't it have been me that was killed?" cried Mrs. Lois Irwin, momentarily losing the control that has marked her actions since her 22-year-old lawyer son, Hal, was arrested for the Piedmont Park slaying of Monty Jack Whitmire.

"I'm an old woman . . . I'm expendable! That man who died, he had a wife and baby!"

Only when she spoke of the Whitmires did Mrs. Irwin cry.

"I cried my eyes dry over Hal before he ever went this far," she confessed, sighing deeply and mopping at her reddened face and eyes. "When he was a little boy he was so good—too good, I know now. He never gave me a minute's trouble.

"His little brother, Darius, was the one who lost his school books and tore his clothes and got dirty and was in fights. Hal was quiet and studious. Then he reached adolescence—about 13, I guess he was—and everything went wrong.

"His father lost his business and finally left home. Hal started hiding around the house and having fits of temper. He was not developing physically and he brooded about it. I took him to a gland specialist, and for several years, although I went without lunches and the boys only had one, decent pair of pants to their names, I bought him glandular injections.

"When he was 18 the doctor said he didn't need any more, he had developed normally and would be all right. But he never was. He was brilliant. He lapped up praise. You couldn't shovel it on too heavily for him. But he wouldn't work. He was never happy. The only pleasure he has ever had was listening to good music. And he could never quite leave me and go out with young people like he should. I knew it wasn't natural to have him tied to my coat-tails all the time. I tried to push him into earning his own way."

"HE WAS A GOOD BOY"
Mrs. Lois Irwin

Mrs. Irwin said her son, who attended Boys' High, Tech High and Young Harris, studied law at Atlanta Law School but never earned a living at it. He married and brought his wife and stepson to her home to live.

"His wife was the only girl he'd ever gone out with. I don't think they loved each other, but he went crazy when their marriage didn't work. They only lived together from April until July and then he began his abuse of me. The doctors said I was his alter-ego."

She laughed without humor.

"He couldn't hate himself so he hated me and blamed me for everything that was wrong with him."

She exhibited knife scars on her wrists.

"He loved good grammar and once when I said 'ain't' he grabbed me by the throat and throttled me. He took everything I had to be his. I used to joke that my salary check always came out so many dollars and 99 cents. I'd say it looked like they could have thrown in another penny to make

Atomic Aid Courses Set For Atlanta

By HOKE SMITH MAY

The director of civilian defense for the Atlanta area declared Friday night that his organization plans to instruct 250,000 Atlantans in first aid to prepare for a possible atomic attack.

G. M. Phillips told the YWCA Coed Industrial Club that the civilian defense group, in co-operation with the Red Cross, is already in the first stages of training 1,000 first-aid instructors to teach in the Atlanta area.

Phillips stressed that "it will be absolutely necessary for every family to take care of itself in case of atomic warfare."

Hearing Monday In Cabby Slaying

By KEELER McCARTNEY

Harry A. (Hal) Irwin, Jr., 22-year-old Atlanta attorney, is scheduled for hearing at 2 p. m. Monday in Recorder's Court in connection with the rifle slaying of Monty Jack Whitmire, 28, of 974 Manigault St., S. E.

The formal charge of murder was placed after attorneys for Irwin began efforts to secure a writ of habeas corpus for an immediate hearing.

Det. J. W. Ellington said the case could be completed for a preliminary hearing Monday. He said employees of Scott's Pharmacy in Decatur identified Irwin as the man they saw walking in front of Whitmire's cab. Identification was made at a line-up Friday night.

Although no motive was established in the slaying, Ellington said he believed it stemmed from a crime thriller movie which Irwin saw Wednesday in Decatur. The

Truman To Tell World U.S. Far Eastern Policy

Special to The New York Times and The Atlanta Constitution

PEARL HARBOR, Oct. 13—On the eve of his Far East policy conference with Gen. MacArthur, President Truman said Friday he was sure the people behind the Iron Curtain were as anxious for peace as he was and that he intended to get the truth to them without guns.

He spoke informally to 100 luncheon guests at the Naval base here after touring the historic harbor and saw the rusted hulks of the battleships killed by the Japanese on the day of infamy in 1941.

Just before Mr. Truman spoke, his press secretary, Charles G. Ross, officially announced at last that President Truman and Gen. Mac. rthur would meet Saturday on Wake Island.

In his luncheon speech Mr. Truman said that after the conference he would go to San Francisco to make the speech next Tuesday in which he will tell the world what United States policy is. He added that he would drive this policy home when he goes to New York on Oct. 24 to make another foreign policy address at the United Nations on the occasion of its fifth anniversary.

The implications of what Mr. Truman said was that a strong redefinition of United States policy relating to the Far East in particular and to the world in general would be forthcoming after the Wake Island conference.

Fire Ravages Four Blocks Of Cochran

Constitution State News Service

COCHRAN, Oct. 15—(Saturday)—A raging inferno swept through the heart of this town of 3,000 population late Friday, gutting four city blocks and wreaking damage estimated at $500,000.

Three of the town's biggest mills were destroyed in the blaze, which apparently started in the boiler room of the Edmondson-Griffin Lumber Company.

Edmondson-Griffin was razed along with the Cochran Oil Mill and the Pritchard Cabinet Company. Thousands of feet of lumber, 200 tons of cotton seed and peanuts and quaptities of varnish fed the holocaust.

Portions of the Rozier Filling Station were damaged and flames badly damaged a nearby Negro residential section, forcing residents to flee for their lives.

Fire fighters from Cochran, nearby Hawkinsville and Eastman finally brought the blaze under control early Saturday morning by bringing into play a new well drilled during the fire.

Earlier reports indicated that water was running dangerously low as the fire periled the entire business district.

All traffic was rerouted around U. S. 129, which runs through the center of the town, as flames licked across the road.

Border Fort Evacuated By French

Northern Citadel Awaits Attack By Communists

SAIGON, French Indo-China, Oct. 13—(UP)—The French Friday ordered the evacuation of Thatkhe, stone citadel on the Red China border, under mounting pressure of Communist-led Viet Minh forces in North Indo-China.

Advance elements of the Thatkhe garrison have reached the safety of Nacham, another border fortress 27 miles to the southeast, a spokesman at French Military headquarters here said.

The bulk of the French troops were still feeling their way along the twisting, jutting mountain crags between Thatkhe and Nacham, under the threat of attack by overwhelming Communist forces at any moment.

Thatkhe is the seventh frontier fort abandoned by the French since Sept. 18, when Communist Leader Ho Chi Minh's men, equipped with French arms in Communist China, overran Donggkhe.

Communists, who outnumbered the French 10 to one, fell on the garrison which had evacuated Caobang, in an operation similar to Friday's, and the relief column sent north from Thatkhe. Of 3,500 Foreign Legionnaires, Moroccans and loyal Viet Nam natives, 3,000 were believed killed or captured, the worst French defeat in the four-year-long guerrilla war.

U.S. Proposes Short Korean Military Rule

By A. M. ROSENTHAL

Special to The New York Times and The Atlanta Constitution

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 13—The United States Friday outlined an occupation program for North Korea that emphasized swiftest possible transfer of control from the military to the civilian and retained for the time being the Communist government's land reform and socialization policies.

At the same time the United States made it clear that it went along with the decision of the United Nations Interim Committee on Korea to limit the Republic of Korea's authority to south of the 38th Parallel until free elections established a national government.

Delegates to the seven-nation committee—the prerunner to the new commission that will take over the United Nations' role in Korea—heard the United States draw the picture of a three-stage occupation program starting with outright control by Gen. MacArthur and ending as soon as possible in withdrawal of all foreign United Nations trpoos.

The occupation plan, as put forward in preliminary form by the United States, called for establishment of local governments in North Korea, as little centralized military-dominated administration as possible, the punishment of war criminals and United Nations direction of the return of civilian authority.

Under the General Assembly's resolution on Korea, it is up to the commission to recommend when and where elections are to be held in Korea.

In a defiant, table-pounding speech, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky called America's "get-tough-with-Russia" policy a mistake and declared the U. S. rearmament would never make the Soviet Union "shake in its boots." He ignored a pledge by U. S. Delegate John Foster Dulles that no nation need fear aggression by American power. Instead he charged that the U. S. was trying to frighten Russia. He demanded a return by the U. S. to its wartime policy of co-operation with Russia.

Credit Curbs Made Tighter

Autos Take Third Down, 15 Months

Home Appliances Require 25 Pct., Furniture, 15

Special to The New York Times and The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—Tighter curbs upon installment purchasing will hit consumers on Monday as a result of an amendment voted Friday by the Federal Reserve Board to its Regulation "W."

Under terms of the amendment, the maximum maturity on installment credits is reduced to fifteen months from twenty-one months for automobiles and from eighteen to fifteen months for appliances and furniture.

Except for autos, on which a down-payment of 33⅓ per cent is still allowed, the new rules increase down-payment requirements on all other products covered in the regulation.

For instance, twenty-five instead of 15 per cent of the purchase price will be required as a down-payment on radios, television sets, electric refrigerators, washing machines and similar items. On furniture, the minimum down-payment is raised from the present 10 per cent to 15 per cent.

The amended regulation also cuts in half to $50 the minimum amount upon which down payments will be required. Heretofore sales involving less than $100 were exempt from the credit controls.

The board's action was taken on the heels of protests made by retailers to the National Production authority Thursday. The retailers contended that the installment requirements involved in Regulation "W" and cut down consumer buying to a dangerous level. They added that the regulations hit those of low income rather than persons in the middle and higher-income brackets.

Other actions in connection with the defense production program in the capital Friday included an announcement from the White House that President Truman authorized W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board, to designate what companies are eligible for tax benefits under the revenue act of 1950.

The new revenue law permits the amortization of emergency facilities over a period of five years for tax purposes and is intended to benefit those companies which expand their plants for defense production purposes.

From the defense transport administration headed by James K. Knudsen, word came today that at least 227,400 new railroad freight cars must be constructed within the coming twenty months to cope with transportation needs.

Taking sharp issue with the United States Department of Commerce over the latter's announcement Thursday that tires for possenger cars may be scarce in the future the Rubber Manufacturers Association Friday said that there is every reason to expect that the supply of tires will be sufficient to meet necessary requirements.

The organization added that the industry produced 64,532,513 passenger car tires during the first nine months of this year, as compared with a total of 65,066,321 in all of 1949.

UN Rips New Holes, Traps 12,000 Reds

By RALPH TEATSORTH

TOKYO, Saturday, Oct. 14—(U.P.)—United Nations forces ripped new holes in crumbling Communist defenses in Korea Saturday, streaking ahead 40 miles in the east and trapping an estimated 12,000 Red troops on the road to Pyongyang in the west.

Powerful Naval forces still roamed off both coasts of Korea, blasting the Reds with massive air and sea bombardments which may presage new amphibious landings behind the cracking Communist lines.

An announcement on the air-sea assaults said 73 military targets on both coasts were hit Friday by warships ranging at will up and down the Communist coastline almost to the borders of Manchuria.

In the forefront of the Naval assault was the American battleship Missouri, which turned its 16-inch guns on Tanchon.

Two powerful forces of United Nations troops were striking for the enemy capital of Pyongyang, one driving up from the south and the other driving west from captured Wonsan.

The southern force threw a trap around 12,000 Red troops in the Kumchon area 70 miles southeast of Pyongyang and the trap was being squeezed shut Saturday by the U. S. First Cavalry Division, British and Australian troops and the South Korean First Division.

By Friday night the South Koreans were within 4½ miles of Kumchon and were expected to link up with the Americans sometime Saturday.

An intelligence officer said there were an estimated 12,000 Reds in the trap.

Probers Report Reputed Gunman Lamented Losing Chance at Drury

CHICAGO, Oct. 13—(UP)—Senate crime investigators disclosed Friday that a reputed former Capone gunman admitted a threat to kill Detective William Drury, but lamented that "somebody else beat me to it."

Robert (Big Bob) McCullough, now a private "police chief" at Chicago and Florida race tracks, was questioned at his swank Cedar Lake, Ind., home by George S. White, ace investigator for the Senate committee.

White described McCullough as a "good suspect" despite the fact that he offered an alibi in the Drury slaying.

Drury, discharged Chicago police lieutenant who turned private sleuth, was gathering evidence against the rackets to offer the committee when he was shot to death in the garage of his home Sept. 25.

White drove to McCullough's Cedar Lake home last night on tips that he had threatned to kill Drury and was glad the detective died.

The investigator quoted McCullough as saying:

"I didn't kill Drury. But I'll say this: I'm sorry somebody else beat me to it."

Chicago authorities, thwarted in attempts to find Drury's killer, immediately entered the McCullough affair and sent officers to question him at the county jail at Crown Point, Ind.

McCullough, however, apparently answered questions satisfactorily. He was released to return to his home.

Six High Police Officials Demoted

NEW YORK, Oct. 13—(AP)—Six high-ranking New York police officials were toppled from their posts Friday as investigation went forward in the city's graft scandal.

It was the biggest shakeup among high echelon police since the scandal exploded into the open a month ago.

Police Commissioner Thomas F. Murphy ordered the six inspectors demoted to captain "to improve the efficiency of the department." He said "more changes may be expected."

Shots Wound 17 Workmen At Savannah

SAVANNAH, Oct. 13—(AP)—A truckload of workmen en route to a struck lumber plant was peppered with shotgun fire Friday morning.

Seventeen men were wounded by the shots, but only one was seriously hurt.

Police said they believed two or more men laid in wait for the truck and blasted away with shotguns, but that they were too far away for the shots to be very dangerous.

Frank Smith, a former deputy sheriff riding in a car escorting the truck, fired twice at two men who shot at the truck.

Police quickly began rounding up suspects. About 30 men were taken to headquarters for questioning, but no charges were filed immediately.

Thirty-five men, all Negroes, were en route to the Reynolds and Manley Lumber Company plant just southwest of the city when they were ambushed.

Gen. Anderson Is Reassigned

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—(U.P.)—Maj. Gen. Orvil A. Anderson who was suspended as head of the Air Force War College, Montgomery, Ala., for offering to "break up Russia's five A-bomb" nests, was named to a new command Friday but was spared a public rebuke.

He was shifted to command of the 375th Technical Training Wing at Sheppard Air Force Base, Wichita Falls, Texas, succeeding Brig. Gen. Emil C. Keil who will get a new assignment.

An Air Force spokesman denied Anderson was being demoted. He said "there has been no disciplinary action: there was no reprimand—nothing."

Anderson was suspended Sept. 1 by Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force Chief of Staff, for allegedly advocating "preventive" war.

Central Names Buying Agent

SAVANNAH, Oct. 13.—(AP)—C. A. G. Blomquist, of Savannah, Friday was appointed purchasing agent of the Central of Georgia Railway, effective Monday.

Blomquist, who is now assistant purchasing agent, succeeds G. W. Alexander, who died recently.

The newly appointed official has been connected with the Central 39 years. He began as a clerk in the general storehouse at Macon. He has been located in Savannah since 1912.

Sailor Pays Call To Buckingham Palace

LONDON, Oct. 13—(UP)—A sailor staggered into "impregnable" Buckingham Palace Thursday night, stole a box of diplomatic papers from a locked room under the collective noses of 200 servants, then slept the night through on the palace grounds, embarrassed Scotland Yard authorities admitted Friday.

The seaman, 26-year-old Douglas Monro, of London, was jailed Friday and will be charged in Bow Street court Saturday. But for a few hours he had most of the London police force and all of Scotland Yard in a tizzy.

The theft was the second from the cluster of Royal residences around Buckingham palace in four months.

Monro scrambled unseen over the guarded walls, entered the palace itself where he lifted the box of correspondence locked in Maj. Gen.-A. C. Sailsbury-Jones' room at 5 p. m. Thursday, and emerged undetected. He became irked because he couldn't open the box and stuffed it in a garbage can.

Then he became weary. He couldn't think of a better place to sleep than the palace. And he knew the way to get in, despite his majesty's soldiers who stand sentry duty at the palace night and day.

So he climbed the wall again. But this time, police said, his legs gave way. They found him "passed out" on the grass this morning. Unaware of his night's activities, they took him to a cell to sleep it off.

Then an old man, rummaging in a garbage can, found the dispatch case and turned it over to police. A general alarm sounded—no one connected Monro with the theft. The press hinted at an international plot.

Police even awoke Monro to ask about the box, but he groggily replied that he didn't know anything about a box. He went back to sleep.

"The man detained has no connection with the theft of the diplomatic papers," police confidently announced. Then Monro awakened refreshed.

The full story came out.

FOUR KILLED

8 Georgians War Victims

Eight new Georgia casualties in Korea, four of them fatalities, were announced Friday by the Defense Department and Atlanta relatives of Cpl. Gaston Robert Baker received letters Friday advising them he had been killed accidentally.

Listed as killed in action were Pvt. James G. Funderburk, of Warm Springs; Pfc. Nelson Steedley, of Moultrie; Sgt. Fred J. Dailey and Capt. Robert B. Walker, both of Columbus.

Baker's wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, of 880 Myrtle St., N. E., received two letters from close friends of her husband telling her he had been killed in training firing practice. The letters were dated Oct. 5 and have not yet been confirmed by the War Department or the Defense Department.

Capt. Walker was a native of Lancaster, Wis., and had lived in Columbus for two years before going to Korea Aug. 3. A veteran of six-year Army service, he was attached to the First Cavalry. His wife, Mrs. Thelma Walker, and four young children live at 83 Engineer Drive, Columbus.

Pfc. Alton T. Johnson, of LaGrange, and Pfc. William F. O'Brien, of Columbus, were reported missing in action. Two other Georgians, Sgt. Norman J. Norton, of Tallapoosa, and Pvt. Donald L. Phillips, of Smyrna, were listed as wounded.

China-Dried Eggs Face Tariff Boost

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—(AP)—The State Department announced Friday that higher tariffs will be applied to dried eggs from China under a proclamation issued by President Truman.

The change comes in the midst of a furore over shipments of the eggs from the Communist-dominated country. The shipments are reported piled up in a Seattle warehouse.

Agriculture Department sources had reported that a move was under way to raise the duty from the rate of 17 cents a pound provided in a 1947 trade treaty with China, to 27 cents.

That Explosion Was Rock Blast

DeKalb County police blamed a "mysterious" explosion that baffled residents of the East Lake area late Friday on the blasting of rock for a sewer line at Candler Road and Glenwood Avenue.

Hundreds of calls flooded police, fire departments and newspapers following the blast, which occurred about 6:30 o'clock.

movie, "Kiss Tomorrow Goodbye," stars James Cagney as a convict who escapes, begins a new career of crime and eventually is slain.

Irwin, whose passage of bar examinations at 18 established him as a law prodigy, recalled the night of the slaying "in flashes," Ellington related. He said the attorney told of going to the Fox Theater in Atlanta but "didn't like the show." Then he went to the Decatur theater.

Somewhat hazily, Irwin said, he recalled telephoning for a taxicab from Scott's Pharmacy in Decatur and firing the fatal shot.

"The next thing I knew I was in a taxicab going to Hapeville," he was quoted as saying. The youthful attorney then told his mother something of the incident and she contacted Foster.

Irwin in 1949 was committed to Milledgeville State Hospital, Foster said. He was released four months later. Atlanta officers also said he was arrested following an attack upon his mother, but was released because she did not wish to press charges.

caused by an atomic blast "will make it impossible to call a doctor or any sort of help," the official warned.

He also announced that "if the world situation becomes any more critical," identification tags, similar to service "dog tags," will be issued in the city.

Phillips estimated that an atomic bomb would kill some 30,000 Atlantans if dropped on the city, and injure another 60,000 to 70,000.

Unless "dog tags" were issued, Phillips said, it would be almost impossible to identify the dead and wounded.

Of course, the civilian defense director said, the dead could never be restored to their families. He said they would have to be buried in a common grave dug by bulldozers.

Dr. Lester Rumble, Atlanta-West District Superintendent, Methodist Church, will meet with a group interested in establishing a new congregation between the Chattahoochee River and Austell at 3 p. m. Sunday. The meeting will be held in the Community Theater at Leland Street on the Bankhead Highway.

College Day

Lutheran Church of the Redeemer will honor all Lutheran college students at a steak fry Sunday, following 1 a. m. services. Baxter McCreery, Georgia Tech student and president of the Lutheran Student Association of Atlanta, will speak. The outing will be held at Niskey Lake.

Homecoming

Dedicatory services will be held Sunday when Avondale Methodist Church observes annual homecoming. Dinner will be served following 11 a. m. services. The church building will be dedicated at 1:30 p. m.

Avondale Church was organized 40 years ago in the home of J. H. Harrison, only living member of the group of five charter members. The first church building was erected at Old Rockbridge Road. The new building is a modern brick church plant.

School Services

Cokesbury Methodist Church will begin worship in the new Rock Springs School, 771 Lindbergh Dr., Sunday. The Rev. J. Douglas Swagerty, Pastor, will speak on "The Greatest Business On Earth."

Audio-Visual Course

A team of religious leaders will conduct a Leadership Education Audio-Visual Institute here Thursday and Friday at the First Methodist Church.

Atlanta team leaders are the Rev. Elmer G. Million, I. C. R. E. audio-visual representative; the Rev. Richard Dawson, director of audio-visuals, Disciples, Indianapolis, Ind.; the Rev. W. Randolph Thornton, department of leadership education; the Rev. Howard E. Tower, director of audio-visuals, both of the Methodist Church, Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. David B. Walthall, director of leadership education, Presbyterian Church, U. S., Richmond, Va.

Team leaders will conduct sessions on projection, making the most of rooms and equipment, principles involved in using leadership education audio-visuals.

Church Fund Drive

Members of the Decatur Presbyterian Church have raised 46 percent of their $250,000 building fund goal, campaign officials announce.

The drive, which began Oct. 4, will provide funds for a new church and educational building, and the remodeling of the present Sunday school building.

To date $114,715 has been raised. The final report meeting will be Oct. 19.

Cupid Hides Out On Friday, 13th

Not that they are superstitious, of course, but brides and grooms in Atlanta apparently decided to play it safe.

Not one announcement of wedding plans for Friday, Oct. 13, came over the desk of The Constitution's Society Department.

Pope Awaits Record Group

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 13—(INS) Pope Pius was authoritatively reported Friday to be planning to make, on Nov. 3, an important "State of the Church" report to the largest gathering of cardinals and bishops over which he has ever presided.

Present plans call for a special meeting in the Papal Palace on that day of some 40 cardinals and over 500 bishops who will have come to Rome to witness, on Nov. 1—All Saints Day—the Proclamation of the Bodily Assumption of the Blessed Virgin to Heaven.

To this assembly, the Pope will deliver a message on "The Pastoral Duties of the Moment"—which in lay language means the State of the Church.

Peace Solicitor Denied Idle Pay

A woman who worked to obtain signatures to the Communist-supported Stockholm peace proposal, has been denied unemployment compensation.

The Georgia Department of Labor turned down her claim, Examiner Dean Ratliffe said, because she refused to give the amount of her earnings or the name of her employer.

State law prohibits the release of names of applicants for job insurance.

Nazarene Unit Renames Atlantan

SAVANNAH, Oct. 13—(AP)—The Rev. Mack Anderson, of Atlanta, Friday was re-elected Superintendent of the Georgia District of the Church of the Nazarene at the closing session of a two-day convention held here.

Let the Presbyterian Church Help You Build a Successful Family Life
Any couple who builds their married life around the activities of the church is sure to be rewarded with a richer, fuller life. There is no finer or surer foundation for a lasting and happy family life than the love and protection of a truly Christian home. Christian faith opens up a clearer understanding of how to solve present-day problems, makes families more tolerant, more united and stronger against the forces which tend to destroy the home.
The Presbyterian church stands ready and eager to assist any couple, either just married or an older family group, in developing the foundation which leads to a successful married life.
You will like the fellowship of a Presbyterian Church where you will meet and become associated with other friends who are working out a successful home life, through an orderly religious plan. The Presbyterian service, with its well balanced combination of music, instruction and inspiration can help you obtain the full blessings of a Christian home. Won't you come and see?

Methodists Set 2-State Press Meet

Constitution State News Service

ST. SIMONS ISLAND, Oct. 13—A three-day church-press seminar for Methodist ministers and laymen of Georgia and Florida will open at Epworth-by-the-Sea, St. Simons Island, Monday afternoon, Oct. 30.

Purpose of the meeting, announced by Bishop Arthur J. Moore, Atlanta, is to make a practical study of the field of religious news and to implement plans for the Georgia Methodist Information office recently opened in Atlanta with Miss Carolyn Williams as Director.

The superintendent and two representatives from each of the 27 Georgia and Florida districts of the Methodist Church will take part in this session, the first of its kind in Georgia if not in the South.

Dr. Ralph Stoody, New York, executive secretary for public relations of the entire Methodist Church, will lead the seminar, assisted by Dr. O. B. Fanning, Southern Manager for Methodist Information. Methodist editors to work with them include: Dr. T. Otto Nall, Chicago, The Christian Advocate; Dr. Charles A. Thompson, Enterprise, Fla., The Florida Methodist; F. M. Gaines, Macon, The Wesleyan Christian Advocate.

Representatives of the press, other business and professional men, will be guests and speakers at the opening dinner. Plans for the three days call for down-to-earth work sessions on how best to gather and disseminate Methodist information of interest to the public.

Scene of the religious-press seminar is the old Hamilton Plantation on St. Simons, bought by the Methodist for use as a conference center. Since its opening in May many sessions have been held there.

General Tendencies — This seems to be one of the best days of the week for general activity and new interests. There is a tendency toward outdoor life, a wider circle of friends and some slight possibility of glamorous dates for the evening. For the practically minded folks there is also a chance that money matters will improve, although I do not believe there is a marked difference in this respect until about the twenty-fifth of this month. Most worries can be pretty well discounted by this time, however.

If It's Your Birthday—Probably your entire birthday year which begins today will be enjoyable even if it is unsettled at times. There is not much change in your immediate future and you can count upon the same friends, the same job and the same studies and forget about the unexpected discords which may upset your friends. Before you have finished two more years this may not be true, so make the most of this pleasant time particularly in your field of friendships. Don't wish for wild adventure and surprises just now.

Make It Cure, Not Merely Care

Legislators who have been inspecting the Milledgeville State Hospital this week have been impressed with the need for making it into an institution for the cure of insanity rather than one for mere custodial care.

If the legislators need further illustration of the need for treatment of insanity they have only to look at the case of a young man who was paroled from Milledgeville less than a year ago who now is under charge of suspicion of murder in connection with the death of a 28-year-old taxi driver here the other night.

This young man was not considered cured when he was released from Milledgeville. Authorities did believe he was much improved and released him in the custody of his mother.

Had the proper treatment been available at Milledgeville it is likely Harry A. Irwin, Jr., could have been cured before he was released. But with only limited facilities available, and with 10,000 and more patients crowded into an institution whose capacity is 7,000, the hospital staff is forced to take undesirable chances.

We do not believe authorities at the hospital can be blamed. Under present conditions they must use every expedient to make room for new patients. Partial treatment is about the best they can hope for, and when parole into the custody of responsible persons is possible they are forced into that course.

It is the State of Georgia, and the General Assembly, that are to blame. Much progress has been made at Milledgeville in the last few years. But the cold-blooded killing in Atlanta indicates that a great deal more must be done, and that more careful restrictions be developed concerning release of patients.

It is reported there are scores of legally insane persons at large in Fulton County. There must be hundreds of others throughout the State. They cannot be held responsible for their acts. It is only when a tragedy occurs involving one of them that the public is reminded of the dangers inherent in our present system of operation at the Milledgeville hospital.

A large number of insane persons can be permanently cured if proper facilities and a sufficient staff of doctors are available. The General Assembly ought to make certain they are provided.

The Public Has A Definite Interest

In reporting that the State Milk Board meeting in Savannah had moved to curb the channeling of milk into milk by-products and had denied distribution permits to 12 applicants, the Associated Press quotes Charles Duncan, board chairman, as saying that other action of the board "was not of interest to the newspapers."

Who is Mr. Duncan to judge as to what is of interest to the newspapers? Or, what is more important, how can he decide what is of interest to the citizens of Georgia who depend on the press to inform them of the actions of governing bodies?

The State Milk Control Board is the people's agency. Any action it takes is of interest to the people of Georgia. In fact, it is their business.

The same thing goes for the actions of any government agency, big or small, local, State, or Federal.

Congratulations, Commander Erle Cocke

Election on Thursday of Erle Cocke Jr., of Dawson, Ga., as national commander of the American Legion was no surprise. The Erle Cocke bandwagon had been rolling ever since the 1949 Legion convention.

That the 29-year-old World War II veteran was named practically without opposition is a tribute not only to his popularity, but also to his skill and that of his lieutenants in organizing support.

Erle Cocke's popularity is founded on performance. This youngest of all Legion commanders had an impressive record of cool courage and heroism in World War II. Captured by the Germans three times, he escaped twice and the third time was shot by a firing squad and left for dead. Seriously wounded, but by no means dead, he lived to rejoin his outfit and render further service.

Since the war, he has been active in the Georgia Legion, which he served as commander, and in other civic affairs. He is assistant to the president of Delta Air Lines.

Already, Commander Cocke has committed his administration to an "All-American" program to prevent war by "peace through strength." We are right with him on that platform.

Legionnaires know the horrible price of war. Theirs is an organization with great influence on every level, local post, state department, and national.

The mantle of leadership has brought to Erle Cocke, not only a great honor, but also a great and grave responsibility.

Georgia is proud of this young man from Dawson. We have faith in his judgment and in his Americanism. We are confident that with Erle Cocke, the guiding principle will always be good of country, not merely good of a particular group or section.

Wilcox Countians Have Will to Drill

Businessmen of Wilcox County have petitioned the court there for the right to form a corporation and drill for oil. The proposed co-operative would buy an oil-drilling rig, reopen an old hole that had been sealed and start in where the last drillers left off.

The investors believe firmly that under the rich soil of Wilcox there are valuable mineral deposits, undiscovered and untouched.

Julian McDuffie, of Rochelle, the experienced driller who is spearheading the project, says, "With local people to back up the project, which will be a long, drawn-out affair, but in charge of someone who has the county at heart, there is no telling what might develop in future prosperity."

The Wilcox drillers may not find oil, but we admire their spirit.

If they do strike it rich, it won't be the first time the citizens of a community have hit pay dirt by pulling together in the common interest.

Given more of the "do it ourselves" determination, local communities would have to appeal less often to the State Capitol and to Washington.

Deserved Honor To W. Comer Davis

The election the other day of W. Comer Davis, of Atlanta, as president of the National Association of Assessing Officers is an honor well deserved by one who has given excellent service to Fulton County over a period of a quarter-century.

Mr. Davis is chairman of the Fulton Board of Tax Assessors. In that position and as an employee of the Tax Assessor's office his ability and integrity have earned for him the esteem of his fellow employees and the public alike.

Mr. Davis long has been recognized as one of Georgia's outstanding figures in his field. He has held numerous State offices in the Assessing Officers Association. The national honor that now has come to him is due recognition of his many achievements.

The Healthy To Be Picketed?

Britain's "socialized" doctors are threatening to strike unless the Government raises their pay before the end of the year.

Those guys really learned fast, didn't they?

It seems only yesterday they were arguing about the dignity of the profession and holding out for the traditional relationship of physician and patient . . . and now here they are with a union.

Of course, you can't blame the doctors. What they're prescribing for the Labor government is merely a dose of its own medicine.

If a medical man has got to work for the Government, I mean, the least he can expect is the full benefits of civil service.

Still, if this doctors' union business really catches on, we may see a setup in the already overdone specialization of the medical profession. Once the MDs are really organized, the Government will have to hire one man for the incision, another for the actual operation and, finally, a member of the Seamstresses Union to put in the stitches.

Yessir, there are a lot of interesting possibilities to this Doctors' Union. . . . But somehow I still don't think they'll ever be able to put disease on a 40-hour week.

GLADSTONE WILLIAMS

Leaders Meet--- And People Talk

WASHINGTON—President Truman's meeting with General Douglas MacArthur in the Pacific seems to have excited an undue amount of political speculation. That may be attributed to the fact this is an election year and the opposition party is always suspicious of any move the President makes in the midst of a national campaign.

General MacArthur, of course, is a Republican, but it is difficult to see how politics enter into the situation. If the President's mission has any political significance at all, either directly or indirectly, it will be on the score of demonstrating to the country that there is nothing amiss in the relations between the White House and the Pacific commander.

Search for Issue Some of the President's critics sought to build up an issue on this score after Mr. Truman ordered a statement by General MacArthur on Formosa withdrawn. He did so on the ground that the General, in expressing his views on the question of keeping Formosa in friendly hands, was invading the field of foreign policy which, under the constitution, is reserved specifically for the Chief Executive.

Because of the splendid leadership he gave our victorious forces in Korea, General MacArthur is more of a national hero today than ever before. If the President's enemies had been able to build up the thought that the General had been badly treated by the White House, this would probably have cost the Administration votes in the coming November election.

But Mr. Truman, in his formal statement telling of the plans for his meeting with the General, was careful to lay the ghost of any such issue. "When I see him," he said, "I shall express to him the appreciation and gratitude of the people and Government of the United States for the great service which he is rendering to world peace."

While the meeting thus may have certain indirect political implications, the circumstances surrounding it hardly justify the inference that it is primarily a political maneuver. As the President himself pointed out, the United Nations action in Korea now appears to be entering "the final phase," involving a situation that raises new problems that call for consultation between him and the supreme commander of American and United Nations forces.

In addition, a number of collateral questions remain to be discussed. There is the question of the peace treaty with Japan, the status of Formosa, the trend of events in Communist China, and other matters which fall within General MacArthur's responsibility.

Normal Thing But with events coming to a head in Korea, there was obviously enough on this point alone to bring about a meeting between the President and the five-star general. If it had not been for the election that lies ahead, nothing would have been said about the meeting more than it was a normal thing. Some people just like to see a political angle in everything a President does.

It would have been far less dramatic, of course, for General MacArthur to have come to Washington to see the President than for Mr. Truman to fly to the Pacific to see him. That would have been the ordinary course. But the President in meeting the General somewhere along the line was no doubt guided by the exigencies of the situation. In the climactic phase of the Korean war it would not have been proper to order the General to fly all the way across the Pacific for a meeting in Washington, though it was clearly within the President's powers to do so, if he had wished.

In going to the Pacific to meet the General instead of ordering him to report to Washington, Mr. Truman was following the example of his predecessor. President Roosevelt went to Hawaii for a conference with General MacArthur under similar circumstances during final stages of the war with Japan.

On the Job Perhaps Mr. Truman was also humoring a fetish General MacArthur seems to have about returning to the United States. For reasons known only to him, he has not seen fit to return to the country since the war ended, although a great hero's welcome awaits him when he does. Various efforts have been made by Congressional committees to have him come back, but to no avail. He has been content to remain in Japan, carrying out his duties as occupation commander—and doing a splendid job of it, too.

As a matter of fact, MacArthur has not visited the United States in something more than ten years. He was in the Philippines at the time war broke out in the Pacific and there he has remained ever since. Undoubtedly he will go down in history as one of our greatest military leaders.

THE PULSE OF THE PUBLIC

The Constitution welcomes letters on either side of any subject. They should not exceed 200 words and must be signed, although names will be withheld on request. We regret none can be returned. Address all letters to The Editors, Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Right to Pride

The Editors: We have written to our friends and pointed with pardonable pride to the cover of The Saturday Evening Post—Oct. 14 issue. The picture is amusing, but it is the names of the two writers in the upper corner that dress the Post off to please us. It is a big U. S. A. and the articles in the Post are very carefully sifted.

To have the names of both Martin and McGill on the cover of this high-standard magazine is a thing to give us here in Georgia a real reason to swell out our chests.

Alto. FRANCIS L. BAILEY.

She Clears Thinking

The Editors: In Celestine Sibley's column in Sunday's paper, she made a very honest statement of a widely prevailing attitude. It might be paraphrased by saying, "Thy Kingdom come—but not yet; Thy will be done—but let somebody else start it."

Undoubtedly, the series of meetings for which these prayer groups prepare will be supported by some merely because revivals are considered old-fashioned, or because of a certain nostalgia for the first decade of this century, which, they tell me, was a happy, if rather naive, period of our history. By others, the meetings will be disapproved of for the same reasons, or because of associations of revivals with the smell of sawdust in a tent, or of hoarse voices on the radio. Or some will withhold support because they have known professing Christians who were sanctimonious, or proud, or nosey, or tiresome. There always are some.

But whatever is true is not linked closely to fashion, or to time, or to personalities—that is, truth is not proved by any of those things. And there is nothing drab or monotonous about God Himself, and He does not have a hoarse voice. He does not use go-getter, 100 per cent American selling psychology in giving His truth, and we must look somewhat beyond those who do. He does not promote religion; He gives life.

Celestine was direct enough to recognize that the answering of prayers would entail leaving some of our "old faulty ways of doing things." So it does, but in the most refreshingly unexpected ways. May she go on writing what she feels—it clears people's thinking to hear honest opinions. LOUISA L. SPELL.

'Well-Taken'

The Editors: Orchids to Mr. Henry C. Crouch for his defense of Blackstone and its indispensability in any lawyer's background and practice.

A reverent tribute, too, to the late Dr. Sylvanus Morris, former dean of the University of Georgia Law School and reputedly the only American to be honored with a degree from Cambridge University for sheer merit in the teaching of Blackstone. Dr. Morris, we believe, was the last American to require daily recitation in a classroom on Blackstone. He believed and many times said: "Blackstone is the law!" It is no harder to imagine a grade-A etymologist without a thorough knowledge of Latin than an able lawyer without a triple-proof foundation of Blackstone.

Dr. Morris, last great bellwether of the Blackstone scholars, derived from Blackstone his brilliant synthesis, "Principia of the Law," from which was derived the shortest and most effective definition of a tort ever known, to wit: "A privation of a private, legal, noncontractural right." The far bulkier definitions are not as adequate.

Has there ever been a greater treatise on Real Property than Book II of Blackstone? Not a week passes that the four books of Blackstone I was prodded into passing do not prove of some value to me in my work.

Your position for Blackstone is well taken, Mr. Crouch, and a requirement that knowledge of Blackstone be a condition precedent to admission to the bar would be a blow at the half-baked. EARL WATSON.

Better Look Behind You

Good Work

The Editors: The question is raised in your editorial in Monday's Constitution, "Georgia Livestock Sales Keep Ahead": "Will Georgia farmers take the sensible view and continue to expand livestock raising . . . or turn back to cotton?"

I do not believe there will be a mass swing back to the one-crop system as was the case after World War I.

The farmers are better prepared now to raise livestock, as many thousands of pastures have been planted . . . there is now a ready cash market every working day in the year at the five big terminal markets and some 70-odd weekly auctions in the State—a situation we did not have in 1919.

The interest in permanent pastures is amazing . . . this interest being manifested by the predominance of young farmers who attend every pasture meeting or demonstration in Georgia. Most of these are young farmers only recently out of vocational agricultural classes and 4-H Club work.

You newspaper folks are doing a fine job of publicizing the movement to develop a major livestock industry in Georgia and the Southeast and deserve much credit for the excellent showing Georgia is making in establishing livestock as the basis for the farm program. The question you raise, however, is timely, and should result in the bankers and businessmen using their influence to the end the farm program may continue as a proper diversified line. Keep the good work up.

W. E. AYCOCK, Sales Manager.
Moultrie Livestock Auditorium.

Break the Habit

The Editors: I read an article in The Atlanta Constitution of Oct. 11 concerning the late arrivals episode at the auditorium during the Ballet. I wish to thank the manager of the auditorium for his action in the behalf of the performers and the true patrons of the Ballet who loved the art enough to arrive on time.

I would recommend that definite action be taken on rioters and late-comers by refusing admission and refunding the price of the admission. This may not be good business, but it would break the practice of late-coming and this would be a blessing to real lovers of the arts.

JOHN MARVIN RAST

"We are members of one another." (Ephesians 4:25) "None of us liveth to himself." (Romans 14:7).

A magnet is more than a toy or an instrument of force, it is a sermon.

Watch those steel filings on the table. As the small magnet in my hand comes near them they scamper toward it. It does not have to touch them. They move because they are in the field of influence of the magnet.

So it is that you and I have a field of influence. Home, office, farm, church, community, state—but there is no need to say more.

Every one of us by influencing those round about us influences humanity.

O Thou whose power sustains the universe, draw us to Thee. Anoint us with Thy spirit. Enable us in all the relationships of life to be channels of Thy love.

Before Subsidies

(Ellaville Sun)

The song, "How're You Gonna Keep 'Em Down on the Farm," was written, of course, before subsidy payments.

Use Horse Sense

(W. H. Champion in Dublin Courier-Herald)

During the latter months of the year more people are killed on the highways of the nation than during any other similar period. Holidays contribute in part to the bloody months on the highways during October, November and December. Football games over the State with their tens of thousands from places far and near add to the accident potential on our highways.

But reminders are being provided in advance for all of us in these danger months. Use horse sense in direct proportion to the horsepower you are directing, and the accident totals will take a nose dive.

A Couple of IF's

(Pickens County Progress)

A court battle has grown out of the effort of Commissioner of Agriculture Tom Linder to stop a Jacksonville, Fla., milk dealer selling sweet milk in extreme Southeast Georgia. If, as charged by Mr. Linder, the milk is of an inferior grade, then it should not be allowed sold in the State, and that is equally true of milk produced in Georgia.

If, as charged by the dealer, the milk is of good grade, and the Commissioner is only trying to keep him out of the Georgia market, then it is a very short-sighted policy, for nothing would be more destructive to the welfare of the American farmer than a bunch of trade barriers at the borders of the various States.

A Sane, Sober Stand

(Macon Telegraph)

The people of Georgia generally welcome the stand taken by Bibb County Negro school teachers who have declared that they do not support attempts by Atlanta Negro leaders to abolish segregation in public schools.

Bibb County Teachers Association, according to its spokesman, says the Minimum Foundation Program rather than abolition of segregation "represents the best approach at this time."

It would be far better for all concerned to concentrate upon better opportunities for white and colored, preparation for greater economic development and increased prosperity such as can only come from the trained hand, mind, and brain.

We are proud of these Bibb County citizens who have been firm enough in their convictions to make their stand known.

History Says It Doesn't Pay To Be a Natural

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 13—We were on our way to the airport to catch our special to Baton Rouge when I came across it in black type on another Southern sports page. The jiggle-joggle of the bus doing its bumps and grinds over the obstacle course to Hapeville wouldn't let me read it for a moment. A neighbor helped me, and together we pinned down the she—sheet to the point I could make out this:

"Guess this will be Beattie Feathers' last year at N. C. State," the writer was saying.

We let the paper up and I sat there for a moment to consider what I had just read. This was no more than you might have expected for State hadn't been able to win more than three games a season since '47. These football machines don't pay off on lemons any more than the machines with handles, and Feathers has probably been equipped with more lemons than any coach outside of California.

But that wasn't the point. The point was this: here's another fellow who could do everything with a football as a player. As a coach, however, he can do everything but win with it.

Feathers has had a moment or so, but you have to take a flashback to '46 to find it. That was an unusual year in that N. C. State started off right, beat a Duke team that was scheduled to win by its own score, and never stopped until its heroes landed in the Gator Bowl.

Isolated case, however, and one in which the Wolfpack personnel dripped blood every game and wore their thin talents until tattered.

Isolated cases, also, are those of great college players who transfer their brilliance to the coaching profession. Feathers was almost a prodigy, broke into a high school backfield at Bristol, Va., as a barefoot, overalled fullback of fourteen years and was an all-state sensation from the start.

He Simply Refused To Stop

At Tennessee, he ran and kicked himself to All-American. He was not fast or elusive. He simply refused to stop. He was a great punter, well equipped with size 12½ feet.

He went to the pros for several years, and while a Chicago Bear, set a ground-gaining record that wasn't broken until Steve Van Buren came along. In the Summers, he was a professional baseball player, and would have made headway there had the curve ball been illegal.

As a coach, he stopped first at Appalachian, a small school in western North Carolina, and did so well State drafted him. He has achieved more, perhaps, than his old Tennessee set expected of him, particularly doing a competitive day-by-day business against Carl Snavely, Wallace Wade, Peahead Walker, Jim Tatum and assorted great minds. The trademark of success—victories—has not been on him, however.

I once asked Snavely, himself no more than an average athlete in a wee bit of a school called Lebanon Valley, why so many times it was the "hidden" squadsman and not the hero who became the successful teacher. I had Clark Hinkle, an old Snavely great at Bucknell, in mind at the time.

"I suppose it is this," said the sage of Carolina. "The hero, as you call him, is so busy concentrating on one position as a player that he is limited in his teaching range. He has so much talent everything comes naturally to him and consequently he puts very little study to the finer points of the game. On the other hand, the man with less talent is studying and fighting to find a way to improve himself. When he gets out of school, he has had to work for what he got and he retains the knowledge. While he couldn't do the job nearly as well as the hero, he is far better equipped to teach it."

Howdy, Isolated Case, How You?

A couple of "isolated cases" get un-isolated tonight in Tiger Stadium, where Georgia Tech and Louisiana State play. It's a coincidence that two of the Southeastern Conference greats butt coaching heads in this game.

Bobby Dodd will probably always rank as the smartest quarterback Tennessee ever had, came from Neyland's nest in the same era as Feathers. Gaynell Tinsley about five years later meandered into the greatest end career LSU has ever known.

Dodd came direct from Tennessee to Tech, has never left. Tinsley followed more the Feathers course, went pro, came back to his old campus as an assistant, then succeeded Bernie Moore when his old teacher became the league's police chief.

There is, however, no evidence that their careers were presented to them by birthright. Dodd was never a physical specimen, rather a frail, hawkish sort of sprout who had to outsmart the next fellow.

The man who made Tinsley an end is on his coaching staff now. "He was no natural," says silent Ben Enis. "Gus was just a big, willing boy who had to be shown everything. He was willing to learn."

Seems that the point is made right there. It doesn't pay to be a natural natural. You've got to work at it.

AUBURN AT FLORIDA

Wade-Dottley Top Week End Battles

With Pitching Bill Wade and Traveling John Dottley duelling it out in Nashville Saturday, a capacity crowd is expected to jam the stadium to see Vanderbilt grapple with Ole Miss.

The 198-pound Dottley is the nation's third rushing back with 411 yards and rangy 195-pound Wade tops all 1950 passers with 722 yards and 10 touchdowns through the air. Wade, with only 42 yards gained on the ground to his credit, still is football's No. 2 man in total offense.

The 20 other members of the two teams will have a mighty part in the game's outcome, but the eyes of the crowd, will center chiefly on Dottley and Wade. For both teams, a victory is a must—it would make the Commodores a full-fledged threat for the SEC title, and a win for for Mississippi would leave only the early-season loss to Kentucky to mar the record.

Vandy's game with Alabama left no key injuries to worry about, but Coach Johnny Vaught still isn't sure that Halfback Scrappy Hart and Ted Millette will make the game. Both were injured against Boston College.

Auburn and Florida see their best chance at an SEC victory in the homecoming game at Gainesville Saturday. Florida's sophomores under new Coach Bob Woodruff are favored.

Woodruff sees trouble if his squad doesn't fire up. End Mike Kelly and Tackle Dan Hunter were lost to the Marine Corps this week and Bob Knight is still out with injuries received against Tech.

Guard Tom Lambert and Tackle Ter Varano are on the Auburn injured list and Back Bobby Briggs is no longer a member of the team

Down in New Orleans a team of avenging Irishmen flew in from South Bend Friday, their last week's loss to Purdue still rankling.

As far as the Wave is concerned, a one-sided score won't be anything new. In five previous games between Notre Dame and Tulane, the Irish have run up 204 points to Tulane's 19. Going into Saturday, 10,000 seats were available for the 81,000 capacity in the Tulane Stadium.

Bulldogs Face First Conference Foe

SANFORD STADIUM BATTLEGROUND FOR SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE ENCOUNTER

Sims Cooley of Miss. State will throw and Dick Raber of Georgia will run

Spirited Maroons Rated Underdogs

By JACK JACKSON

ATHENS, Oct. 13—Having earned one victory and a pair of ties in three non-league games, the Georgia Bulldogs jump headlong into a six-ply Southeastern Conference slate Saturday afternoon at Sanford Stadium when they meet Mississippi State's dangerous Maroons.

Despite protests of University students, it is homecoming here in Athens and old grads from hither and yon will be looking on when kickoff time rolls around at 2 p. m.

That Mississippi State, which did not win a game last Fall, is dangerous was proved to the satisfaction of all concerned two weeks ago when the Maroons humbled mighty Tennessee, 7-0. That victory became all the more important in the light of the Vols' rout of a previously unscathed Duke team last week.

Georgia is still somewhat of a puzzle. The Bulldogs routed a Maryland team which since has rolled over Navy and highly regarded Michigan State, then tied North Carolina, which extended Notre Dame. But in between, they managed only a deadlock with St. Mary's, which hasn't been able to look decent against anyone else.

Mississippi State dropped a one-touchdown decision to Baylor last week in its second effort of the season.

In the face of these facts and figures, Georgia has been established as a one-touchdown—or a little better—favorite.

Chuck Magoni, the hard-luck kid from Columbus, is slated to join Mal Cook, Billy Mixon and Lukie Brunson in Georgia's starting backfield. Magoni has been sidelined with a broken neck and broken leg in other years, but is all in one piece this time and was the individual star of practice sessions during the last week. Mixon remains the top Bulldog runner, while Cook will be looked upon to provide the passing thrusts.

Up front, injury to Bob Walston moves either John Carson or John Duke into a regular end berth opposite either Ed Filipovits or Harry Babcock. Dick Steele and Dick Yelvington man the tackles while Nick Feher and Clint Madry are slated to go at guards. Bill Bradshaw is the center. Ed Greenway, the Athens boy, who was married during the week, is back in good standing and will see action at guard.

State and Slick Morton bring one of the smallest players in major college history into town to guide their attack. He is Frank (Twig) Branch and actually weighs only 130 pounds. But the graduate of Pearl River Junior College proved his mettle against the Vols and Bears and is fully accepted in the best of circles.

X-rays have not shown serious injury to Gus Hlebovy, senior halfback hurt in Thursday's practice. It seems likely he will see action on defense.

The entire Maroon lineup is dotted with transfers from junior and senior colleges and their presence has raised the Mortonmen from the depths. End Tony Kotowski played at St. Mary's, fullbacks Joe Fortunato and Bill Stewart followed their coach from V. M. I. and on it goes.

Ably assisting Branch is Tom Rushing, a 193-pound soph left half, who has come into his own after a year's seasoning with the Maroon version of Red Devils. Wally Beech, the leading gainer of the '49 team, is back at right half, and Stewart is set to open at full.

It's a crucial game for both. Georgia needs a victory in its first S. E. C. start, and State must have one to continue its upward climb.

Some 25,000 are expected to see the second meeting between the schools. Georgia lost its only other start to this team, 9-0, back in 1914.

Tech Relies on Reserve Backs Against Bayou Tigers Tonight

Sykes, Ross Start for Jackets; LSU Rated 10-Point Favorite

By FURMAN BISHER

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 13—A Georgia Tech football team with a prayer and a chance landed Friday afternoon in the town that Standard Oil and Huey Long built.

Saturday night, in Tiger Stadium, the Engineers will see what their chance is worth against a large and bruising, but inarticulate Louisiana State team cast in the role of a 10-point favorite. If the chance cannot be cashed in, that's where the prayer comes in.

Tech goes into this game without the slightest idea of what to expect from a group of young untried bucks who must work where such veterans as Bobby North and Darrell Crawford have operated.

Art Ross, out of Orlando, Fla., moves in for the spavined North at fullback. Bubba Sykes, a happy-go-lucky junior with no more than sophomore experience, will stand under center where Crawford has stood. They will be the key figures Saturday night.

There is an uncommon air of confidence among the squadsmen where Sykes is concerned. Perhaps it is because he came through in the clutch last week against Florida. Or, perhaps it is because he has been pitching well in practice this week. It's unusual, at any rate, for he is starting his first college game against as rugged a line as the Engineers will meet.

Crawford may play. But he won't pass. His right shoulder, in which the separation took place, has come around amazingly. However, it is out of the question that he should be able to throw for some time yet.

This Tech team goes into the game unwhipped in league play, and with a chance to move into a first-place tie with Kentucky. This sounds like crazy talk, but it's fact.

With that as added incentive and the Tigers as vulnerable at quarterback as the Jackets, that's where the chance comes in. Tech could get off to a clean break and win this one. It would have to be the surprise of the week, however.

Just as desperate as Bobby Dodd at quarter, Tiger Coach Gus Tinsley has called in another halfback to try where Lee Hedges and Norm Stevens apparently have failed. Jimmy Barton supposedly will start over Sophomore Stevens, whose passing average is .311, and Junior Hedges, already shipped back to his halfback.

Barton is a pewee of 5-9, 165, heralded as a runner (4.8 average last year), not as a passer. Could be, then, that Tech will see L. S. U. in the backfield version of the split T tonight. Thereby, Barton would be given more freedom to use his running talents.

The Jackets worked out at Tiger Stadium Friday night, will take a walk Saturday morning, sleep, visit the movies or listen to the Tulane-Notre Dame game Saturday afternoon.

Tech holds a vast lead in this short series, six to one, has won 36-7, 28-7, 23-0, 42, 6, 14-6 and 26-7, lost in 1945, 9-7, when Red Knight kicked a decisive field goal in a thriller at Grant Field.

The lineups:

TECH	Pos.	LSU
Harvin	LE	Yeager
Beck	LT	Corne
Flanagan	LG	Hover
Bossons	C	Reid
Rathbun	RG	Shoaf
Miller	RT	Miller
Weigle	RE	Konz
Sykes	QB	Stevens
Humphreys	LH	Freeman
McCoy	RH	Hunter
Ross	FB	Roshto

Kickoff 8 p. m. (CST).

'Bama Buries Furman, 34-6

High Tide Rolls in Second Half To Swamp Hurricane

By EDWIN POPE

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Oct. 13—Alabama's sluggish giants played Furman mentally and Tennessee physically Friday night and tarried to a loose 34-6 triumph over a Hurricane band wholly intent upon an upset.

At times, with aces Sonny Horton and Ed Jasonek in battle heat, it seemed that Furman had a chance. Always 'Bama recovered itself in time to make the grade, but Coach Red Drew failed to give his Tidesmen the rest they needed and wanted before their premier attraction with Tennessee next week.

Little more than 12,000 fans sat gapped through Denny Stadium to watch Sailin' Syrian Ed Salem's natural wizardry take care of things. He scored twice, converted four times for an able 16-point complement to out-of-nowhere touchdowns by Al Lary and Butch Avinger. Jim Burkett's short flash was good for the fifth TD. Tommy Williams was Furman's only point-man.

For one quarter, in an apathy spread thickly through both the Alabama team and cheering section, Furman was a better team than Tulane had been two weeks ago, for it held Alabama scoreless, indeed, stopped three rumbling drives inside its 10-yard-line, thanks to furious tackling by Sophomore Guards Frazier Bailey and Senior Wade Stepp. Alabama early drove 85 yards to the Hurricane eight but met a wall. Moments later, a Butch Avinger-led march folded at the Furman eight after 46 hard yards. Bobby Marlow's fumble spiked the third Tide drive, this time at the six. The dam had to burst, for Alabama was in the process of rolling up 14 first -half first down to only for for Furman.

On the third play of the second quarter, with Alabama lumbering around at its 48, Avinger burst off left tackle on a "keep" play and simply outran every Furman man over the goal. When Eddie Salem toed true, it was 7-0.

Salem wrapped around a wild Joe Watts throw at his 42 to set up the second scoring tour. After assorted midline hammerings chiefly 10 yards by Salem, eight more by Avinger, and 14 by Jim Burkett, Salem seemingly shrugged through a gaping center hole for 23 yards for a TD, then converted to make it 14-0.

Furman was down but, like the forest fire precautioners say about matches, not out. Watts and sturdy halfbacking mates Ed Jasonek and Sonny Horton caught fire and moved 42 yards to the one-yard line as the half ended.

Horton twisted once for 17 yards and Jasonek 23 again, but the doom gong sounded as little Junie Needham piled to the one.

No flames were apparent from either dressing room at intermission, which was wondrous, for both coaches apparently spoke hotly. Each club returned spewing like a chocolate soda in the hands of a novice soda-jerker.

'Bama smashed 80 yards in six plays as Avinger bulleted passes to Salem, Salem hit Marlow, Tom Calvin punctured the Furman tackles and Salem finally swept end for seven yards and the score. His conversion upped it to 21-0.

Furman returned the insult by battering 75 yards through bewildered 'Bamas. A 26-yard thrust by Sonny Horton set the pace and Soph Tommy Williams bumped the middle for eight yards and the TD. He missed the extra, though, and Alabama led 21-6 at the end of the third quarter.

At the start of the fourth period, fully two quarters after it had expected to, 'Bama erased Furman chances by grinding 79 yards to change the board to 27-6. Marlow's 36-yard run, and a shot from Salem for another 26, set it up and Burkett mashed six yards for the clinches. Salem failed to convert.

Unheard-of sophomore Clell Hobson wound up the scoring with a 42-yard pass to Al Lary with only a moment to play. Salem converted, leaving it a final 34-6.

Elks Golf Favorites Eliminated

By BERT PRATHER

Cecil Grace, of East Point Lodge, knocked the last remaining pre-tournament favorite from the second annual Southeastern Elks golf tournament when he upset co-medalist K. G. Messerole, 1 up, Friday afternoon at Meadowbrooks Country Club. Messerole, who hails from Bristol, Tenn., had qualified with a 73 to share medalist prize with John Metcalf, Dalton.

Frank Goodpasture, Bristol, Tenn., who Thursday knocked off defending champion Louie Hill, Atlanta, continued his winning ways by whipping tournament chairman Al Ross, East Point, 3 and 2. Ross led 2-up through 10 holes, but succumbed to Goodpasture's excellent golf on the back nine.

Other semifinalists are I. Broadwater and Jeff Wallis. Broadwater beat Grady Akins, 1 up, while Wallis bested M. McMahon, 3 and 2.

Both semifinals and finals will be played Saturday. Fifth flight survivors will lead off the parade at 8:30 a. m.

In the championship flight, Goodpasture will meet Broadwater and Grace will clash with Wallis.

Other results:

First Flight—Jack King beat W. Kimbell, 3 and 2; H. Nash beat P. Matthews, 3 and 2; Frank Higgins beat H. Rice, 5 and 4; B. Kinsey beat Sid Anderson, 5 and 4.

Second Flight—C. Willingham beat L. Alford, 1-up; Hal Dumas, Jr., beat Tom Bryan, 4 and 2; G. Braswell beat C. Daniels, 4 and 3; Ed Moser beat K. Heffner 4 and 3.

Third Flight—F. Kunkel beat H. Cameron, 3 and 1; K. McInnis beat T. Robertson, 1-up; T. Adams beat B. Butler, Jr., 1-up; Dr. E. Grayden won by default from W. Melton.

Fourth Flight—C. Johnson beat Joe Bonds, 6 and 5; C. Montgomery beat E. B. White, 4 and 3.

Fifth Flight—V. McCorvey beat J. W. Smith, default; J. A. Ryan beat B. Ginn, default; L. Kimbrough beat J. Bostwick, 4 and 6; B. Workman drew bye.

Fordham Routs Hapless B. C., 26-6

BOSTON, Oct. 13 — (AP) — The Fordham Rams got off to a flying start and then bogged down while defeating Boston College's injured and hapless Eagles, 26-6, before a skimpy 10,884 crowd Friday night at Braves Field. The victims in this Jesuit clash totaled five fumbles, four of which were extremely costly.

Grady Roars Back To Lash Smithies

By CHARLIE ROBERTS

Some Smith High partisans are making the sly suggestion that Grady High football players should be forced to take the saliva test. There is no doubt that Spec Landrum had his Grey Knights hopped up for the second half of Friday night's game.

The Knights, perfectly harmless and gentle in the first half, became savage, ruthless operators while the bands and majorettes were cutting pretty capers at intermission, and stormed back to obliterate a 12-0 deficit and win going away at 21-12 on the Smithies' home grounds at Cheney Stadium.

Statistics tell a vivid tale of how the red-headed coach got his Knights' Irish up as they looked down their noses while lounging in the dressing room.

Smith made 10 first downs in the first half, one in the second, gained 113 yards rushing in the first, had minus 27 in the second, pitched for 67 yards in the first, none in the second. Grady managed one first down in the first two go-rounds, 8 in the next two, pushed 30 yards over terra firma in the first half, 75 in the second, garnered exactly nothing with futile first half pitches, 54 in the rally that put them back into contention for the City League crown.

THE YARDSTICK

Smith (12)		Grady (21)
11	First Downs	9
86	Yards Rushing	105
12	Yards Passing	54
38	Yards Penalized	80

Lawrence Warren and Grady Waters ran roughshod over the Knights in the first quarter but didn't score until midway the second chapter when Jack Odum and Warren collaborated on the most sensational play of the year. Odum arched a heave 55 yards in the air. Warren leaped high, caught it over his shoulder on the goal line with Metcalf riding him piggy back.

Hugh Gibson promptly recovered a Metcalf fumble after he had raced the kickoff back 17 yards to the Grady 37. Waters battered for 15. The Knights were penalized 15. and Waters ripped seven yards to pay dirt for a 12-0 lead. Waters shortly intercepted a pass to end Grady's only first-half threat.

Came the third quarter, and here came Grady, allowing Smith just four scrimmage plays. Grady marched from its own 38 to Smith's seven with a 30-yard Reid-Gardiner aerial being the big gainer.

Smith took over, but Van Buren put his big frame in front of an attempted Warren punt and Bert Oastler recovered for Grady at Smith's five. Tommy Hanson ran for one and Reid pitched to Gardiner for the TD. Van Buren booted the first of his three straight extra points.

Arnau rammed for 38 yards on eight plays in a 13-play, 72-yard drive for the first fourth-quarter score. A Reid-Cleveland pass was good for 10 and Arnau cracked center for the final yard. Van Buren's boot made it 14-12 with 3:15 left in the game.

Van Buren kicked off over the the goal and, three plays later, Lanford intercepted an Odum bullet and zigzagged 18 yards behind fine blocking for the final counter just two minutes later.

Marquette Cashes In Detroit Bobbles

Berg, Hanson Set in Finals

FORT WORTH, Oct. 13—(AP)—Freckled Patty Berg shattered a six-year jinx Friday with a tingling 1-up decision over Betty Jameson in a tingling 20-hole semifinals battle in the Women's Texas Open at River Crest Country Club.

Five times previously the Minnesota pro had bid for the crown but could never clear the semifinals hurdle. But the dogged determination Patty showed Friday in the face of overwhelming pressure left little doubt that she wants this tournament badly.

Defending Champion Beverly Hanson, of Indio, Calif., shot steadily to defeat Betsy Rawls, of Austin, 4-3. Miss Hanson carved out a 2-under card on the front side to grab a three-hole margin, then ended the match with a birdie deuce on 15.

Hanson and Berg meet in the 36-hole championship battle Saturday.

Bonnies Rally To Win, 25-21

BOSTON, Oct. 13 — (AP) — Ted Marchibroda, an amazingly cool sophomore quarterback, pitched St. Bonaventure's scrappy football team to an upset 25-21 victory over Boston University Friday night in the final seconds of a closely fought game witnessed by 12,135 Fenway Park fans.

With exactly 20 seconds remaining, Marchibroda pitched a 25-yard heave to Stan Zjadel in the end zone for the winning touchdown.

The play climaxed an uphill drive by the undefeated Bonnies, who had trailed all through the game, and extended their victory streak through four games.

Togo Given Win Over McIntyre

The Great Togo was awarded the decision over Don McIntyre after 16 minutes in the main match on Friday's wrestling program at the City Auditorium.

McIntyre left the ring thinking he had won the fall and was counted out by the referee.

In the secondary feature, Nick Carter and Tarzan White downed Art Nelson and Stinger Steele in a team tag match. Other matches found Red McIntyre beating Lord Finis Hall on disqualification after 11 minutes of tussling. Jack Steele pinned Dick Trout in 13 minutes in the opener. One of the largest crowds of the season was on hand.

Tech, Tide Freshmen Play Today

Freshman football stars of the future from Georgia Tech and Alabama clash Saturday at 2:30 on Grant Field, with the Baby Jackets seeking their first postwar victory over the hefty Baby Tide.

Blocked by a typical Alabama line that averages more than 200 pounds, Coach Lewis Woodruff's Jackets probably will resort to the air lanes. Both Courts Redford, of Decatur, and Pepper Rodgers, former Brown star, rifle passes with deadly accuracy.

Tide Coach Joe Kilgrow, boasting two straight triumphs over Tech, has one of the most promising frosh teams in recent years.

Although outweighed, Tech is capable of taking care of itself up front. Tackle Bob Sherman, Guards Hugh Hardison, Bulldog Carrithers and Bill Kerfoot are a few of the boys who can compete in any company.

Former Atlanta prep stars making their college debut before home fans other than Redford and Rodgers are backs Gordon Malloy, Wayne Clyburn, Chuck Brannon, Virgil Milton and Emory Jenks. Linemen include Bob Drake, Carrithers, Allen Morris, Cecil Trainer, Bob Randolph, William Scogin, William Mayo, Drew Liddell, Henry Hair, Pig Campbell, Ralph Bullard, Dave Colcord, Robert Fine, Jimmy Dreger and Charles Carroll.

Virgil Willis, All-State end from Tifton, will man a defensive flank for the Baby Tide. Only other Georgian on the roster is Guard Ray Burkett, of Valdosta.

The Alabama squad checked in Friday afternoon and went through a light drill. Georgia Tech also tapered off with limbering-up exercises.

Glynn Bumps Jackets, 14-6

BRUNSWICK, Oct. 13—(AP)—An underdog Glynn Academy Red Terror eleven smothered Savannah High's Blue Jackets aground Friday night and set them back, 14-6.

The Brunswick backfield, including Capt. Jack Jarriel, Linwood Roberts' Bub Miller, reeled off 207 yards rushing to only 21 for Savannah. Quarterback William McDonald's throwing arm netted 60 yards in the air.

Savannah's only touchdown resulted from Red McKenzie's tosses which netted 110 yards. McKenzie and Red Wilson led the Jackets on the offensive.

Jimmy Shell, Jarriel and Roberts were the Terror standouts on the defense.

Jerry Clanton scored Savannah's counter after it was set up by McKenzie.

Blue Devils Blasted, 39-6, By Hurricane

By BOB BOWEN

A heavier Monroe Purple Hurricane swept over Avondale's Blue Devils Friday night, 39-6.

The Hurricane took the kick-off and went to a TD, Hugo Peters going over.

The Blue Devils took the second kick-off, drove to their 37, gave the ball to Jimmy Barlow who swept around end and raced to paydirt.

Monroe scored four more times on the ground and tallied on a 25-yard pass, Sidney Wheeler to Walter Hutchins.

College Park Hobbles Summerville High, 37-0

SUMMERVILLE, Oct. 13—Don Van Sant and Russell Johnson teamed with Nickey Nichols Friday night to lead the College Park Rams to a devastating 37-0 rout of Summerville.

Van Sant was the scoring partner, Johnson the runner, and Nichols the passer in the College Park attack.

Johnson took off on a 68-yard run early in the first quarter to set up the first Ram tally that started the scoring parade. Van Sant took a nine-yard pass from Johnson for that score, and a few minutes later grabbed a 15-yard pass for Nichols for the second score of the game.

The second period went scoreless, but the Rams came back for more in the third. Van Sant scored again, this time on a 39-yard run around end. Herman Norrid turned torrid in the third and scored two, one on a 10-yard pass from Nichols, and the other on a two-yard plunge through the middle.

John Wimberly scored the last touchdown for the Rams in the fourth period on a five-yard run over right tackle.

James Alexander was outstanding on defense for College Park. Defensive standouts for the stunned Summerville were Ralph Argo, Charles Brooks, and Leslie Mathis. Gene Woodall and Earl York led the Summerville offense.

Brown Bomber Reported Set For November Bout

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK, Oct. 13—(AP)—Joe Louis, irked at his defeat by Ezzard Charles, plans to continue fighting and probably will meet Cesar Brion in Chicago in late November, it was learned from a good source Friday night.

Louis himself was not available for confirmation, but this authoritative source said it was learned that the Brown Bomber has been changing his mind frequently over whether or not to fight again.

Now, the source said, Joe has made up his mind to go ahead and try to make up for the second defeat of his career.

Hymie Wallman, manager of the 26-year-old Brion, refused to confirm or deny that he had contracted for such a match. Wallman said, however, "I would go ahead and make it if such an opportunity arose."

Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club, said "We prefer to go along on what Louis said last week—that he hasn't made up his mind and wants time to think the thing over.

"And when he does make a decision," Markson continued, "it will be his own."

In Boston, Welterweight King Ray Robinson told a press luncheon in his honor that Louis has been signed to meet Brion in Chicago Stadium on Nov. 29.

Robinson, a close personal friend of Louis, said an I.B.C. official had shown him the signed contract of the fight.

He added that the I.B.C. also has tentative plans for the former heavyweight titlist to meet Rocky Marciano in Madison Square Garden in early February.

After he was beaten in 15 rounds by Charles in Yankee Stadium last Sept. 27, Louis said "I'm through. I won't fight again. I done the best I can."

Since then, Joe has said that he may or may not fight again. He said that he would know after he had talked over the Charles fight again with Mannie Seamon, his trainer.

Campbell Stampedes Milton, 60-0

By MATHIS MURPHY

High-stepping halfback Bob Neeley kicked up his heels and put on a one-man scoring show Friday night as a stout Campbell team from Fairburn slaughtered the visiting Milton Eagles of Alpharetta, 60-0.

Neeley scored four touchdowns and five extra points for a total of 35 points. He did all kicking-off and most of the punting.

Neeley shared scoring honors with Red Watson. Watson turned on the steam late in the game to score two touchdowns. Others scoring for Campbell were Ernest Jernigan, on a pass from David Nance, Nance himself, and Luke Davis.

Marvin Jenkins was outstanding for Milton.

LONGEST STREAKS

Army, Oklahoma May Follow Irish

By MILO FARNETI

NEW YORK, Oct. 13—(AP)—College football's two longest major unbeaten streaks may go the way of Notre Dame before Saturday's biggest crowds at Yankee Stadium and the Cotton Bowl in Dallas.

Purdue dropped Notre Dame from the undefeated class at 39 last Saturday, and this Saturday Michigan will try to stop Army at 22 and Texas will attempt to cut off Oklahoma at 23. The Cadets have two ties while Oklahoma is 24-carat—all victories.

The two games will bring together four of the nation's top-ranking elevens: Army No. 1, Oklahoma No. 3, Texas No. 4 and Michigan No. 18 in the Associated Press poll.

Powerful Michigan, downgraded because of its upset by Michigan State, has an extra incentive in the Yankee Stadium contest before an expected 67,000 fans. Last year Earl Blaik's Cadets broke the Michigan winning streak at 25.

This Saturday the All-America candidate is set to match passes with Bob Blaik, the coach's son, and runs with Jim Cain, Gil Stephenson, Vic Pollock and Al Pollard. The stout Army defense also will get its first big test.

Texas is aiming for a post-season bowl bid while Oklahoma is just aiming to keep its victory string going. Some 75,000 will jam the Cotton Bowl for this annual assault held as a high spot of the Texas State Fair. The Texans are slight favorites just because the Sooners had to come from behind in the last 37 seconds to defeat Texas A. & M. last week.

Two more undefeated teams, Southern Methodist and Oklahoma A. & M., will trample the same Cotton Bowl turf Saturday night in a unique day-night doubleheader. Another 55,000 pigskin-hungry Southwesterners will watch this one.

SMU, ranked No. 2 nationally, expects to win on Fred Benners' passing and Kyle Rote's running. But the Mustangs realize A. & M. already has whipped two other strong Southwest Conference elevens, Arkansas and Texas Christian.

Notre Dame attempts to start another streak going at Tulane, but this may end in the Ramblers' second defeat. Tulane remembers bitterly last season's pounding and has been pointing a year for this one.

Tennessee and Kentucky, perhaps the best in the South, have breathers. The Vols entertain Chattanooga while the Blue Grass boys meet Cincinnati.

Two ex-Army assistants, Stu Holcomb, of Purdue, and Andy Gustafson, of Miami (Fla.), compare notes at LaFayette, Ind. Holcomb has the better notebook.

Three of the leading offensive men in the country meet at Nashville, where Mississippi, conqueror of Tennessee, plays surprising Vanderbilt. Mississippi Fullback John Dottley is the 1949 running champion, while Vandy's Bill Wade leads the passers and End Bucky Curtis the pass catchers.

In the South, Maryland, conqueror of Michigan State, is favored at Georgetown. Mississippi State travels to underdog Georgia. Wake Forrest to North Carolina, and Duke to North Carolina State. Mississippi State and Duke lost in upsets last week.

Clarkston Rolls Over Stone Mt.

By HARRY PHILLIPS

Clarkston came through with three touchdowns in the second half to squeeze out a 25-19 decision over Stone Mountain Friday night at Southwest DeKalb Field.

The game was originally scheduled as a dedication affair for Clarkston's new lighted field, but faulty lighting made it necessary to switch the game to Pantersville.

Sam Hay passed 20 yards to Sam Hook for the first Stone Mountain touchdown in the opening quarter. Clarkston tied it in the second frame when Quarterback Milt Blalock scooted five yards around end for a score.

Clarkston rammed over two more in the third on a 25-yard skirt by Halfback Peewee Maddox, and a 70-yard romp by Halfback Robert Dearman.

Gouge racked up a pair for Stone Mountain in a game fourth-period rally which fell short. He went one yard for one TD and then scored on a pass, from Hay which covered 70 yards in all. Billy Kelly raced 28 yards across the double stripes for Clarkston in the final stanza.

Score by quarters:

Stone Mt.	6	0	0	13	—19
Clarkston	0	6	12	7	—25

Touchdowns: Stone Mt.—Hook, Gouge 2.
Extra Points: Stone Mt.—Hook.

Colonials Rap Virginia Tech

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—(AP)—Bob Cilento's passing and Jack Tivnan's running led George Washington's Colonials to a 42-7 victory over out-classed Virginia Tech Friday night. It was George Washington's third straight Southern Conference triumph.

Cilento threw two touchdown passes, both to Charlie Butler. And Tivnan scored twice on ground plays.

Then, with George Washington ahead 28-0, Jack Baumgartner, 190-pound sophomore G. W. back, got into the act. He scored the final two touchdowns, one on a pretty 36-yard run.

Not until George Washington was ahead 42 to 0 did Virginia Tech, which has won only one game in the last three seasons, show any scoring punch.

Midway in the fourth period Tech went 65 yards to score. Mike Rusinko plunged through the middle from the 10-yard line to keep his team from having an evening of complete futility.

Bulldogs Top 'Cats With Late Flurry

By ERNIE HYNDS

After being held to a mere bark in the first half, Jack Griffin's North Fulton Bulldogs chewed out two touchdowns in the second to defeat Russell's Wildcats 14-0 and remain in contention for the Region 4-AA grid title.

Wildcat mentor Larry Dodd played his sidebacks 14 yards deep and almost completely stymied Pitching Ed Hamilton's air attack, but the Bulldog signal caller was equal to the task and maneuvered two ground drives for the victory.

Only one pass was thrown in either advance and that was an 8-yard success in the flat from Hamilton to Bobby Turner. Guerry Barton, Art Newton, Thorne Winter and Billy Mitchell piled up most of the yardage needed with Winter and Hamilton marking the card with two and one-yard thrusts, respectively.

North Fulton drove to the Russell 15 midway of the first stanza, but was halted by a 15-yard rules violation. They missed another chance minutes later after Dick Coleman pounced on a Wildcat fumble at the Russell 30.

The Wildcats took over at their 20 to drive 72 yards before relinquishing the ball on their most concerted try of the evening. Cliff Manus, Jack Quinn and Billy Moran provided the gas for the trip which was finally terminated on the North Fulton 8-yard line.

The Bulldogs came snarling back to the Wildcat 20 before the half ended, but still lacked the punch to move across.

They made it stick, however, early in the third period on a 64-yard thrust and put it away toward the end of the final quarter on a 44-yard drive. Billy Mitchell placekicked both extra points.

Line play which accented the game was fierce on both sides with Wes Foster, Lewis Hardy, Richard Jessey, Gibbs Mobley and Dick Bell stemming the tide for Russell and Mitchell, Turner, Newton, Jerry Griffin, and Louie Cleveland plugging the gaps for the Bulldogs.

mores and juniors. Sanson also kicked four extra points out of five tries. The 185-pound back found a right end hole in the first quarter for a 20-yard TD jaunt after Lawrence Reese carried an intercepted pass 25 yards to the Bulldog 30.

In the second, Sanson went over from the eight after Williamson and Bobby Hendricks brought the ball from midfield. Tollie took over on a handoff from Hendricks for a 42-yard dash to pay dirt. A 25-yard pass, Hendricks to Sanson, scored a third TD in the second quarter. Sanson came back in the third quarter to take the kickoff on a beautiful 95-yard TD run with good interference.

The Bulldogs pushed to the seven in the fourth stanza permitting Ed Wilkes to cross. A pass, Hayes to Perry, scored the point.

Cedartown Humbled by Bass, 34-7

By GEORGE VANCE

CEDARTOWN, Oct. 13—Cedartown Bulldogs saw too much of Bass High backs Tom Sanson, Tollie Williamson and Bobby Hendricks Friday night.

Tom made four touchdowns and Tollie one to win 34-7 over the Bulldogs, a "wait till next year team" being built around sophomores and juniors. Sanson also kicked four extra points out of five tries. The 185-pound back found a right end hole in the first quarter for a 20-yard TD jaunt after Lawrence Reese carried an intercepted pass 25 yards to the Bulldog 30.

In the second, Sanson went over from the eight after Williamson and Bobby Hendricks brought the ball from midfield. Tollie took over on a handoff from Hendricks for a 42-yard dash to pay dirt. Decatur Overpowers Gainesville by 40-6

Decatur added another victory to its unbeaten string with a 40-6 win over Gainesville Friday night on the Decatur field before a capacity audience.

Decatur started its parade of touchdowns midway the first quarter after receiving a Gainesville punt on its own 17-yard line. A David Redford to Harry Peavy pass netted 50 yards. Pete Johnston, behind some great blocking, sprinted 20 yards to Decatur's 2-yard line, and Larry Morris, on a cross buck, scored the six-pointer. Johnston's first of four PAT's was good.

Decatur scored on the sixth play after the second quarter began, when Morris rammed the Gainesville line for the final eight yards.

Redford passed 20 yards to Peavy, unmolested in the end zone for the third Decatur score. The victors made it 27 to 0 at the half as Redford passed five yards to Peavy.

A Decatur reserve paved the way for the fifth score in the third period. A pass combination of Redford to Morris for 28 yards ended the drive.

Gainesville score early in the third quarter, after taking a short Decatur punt on the Bulldogs' 38-yard line. Hayes and Cummings, on trap plays through the Decatur line, gained a first down to Decatur's 5-yard line. Captain Cummings, on a wide end sweep, ran the final three yards.

The Bulldogs added a final touchdown in the fourth period as Al Browning ran 60 yards to pay dirt.

Gainesville outrushed Decatur 117 to 106 yards, but could not match the great passing combination of Redford to Peavy.

Decatur was penalized 105 yards, due primarily to inexperience by the reserves in illegal use of hands on defense, but due credit must be given those reserves, who battled every inch of the way and aided materially in the defense.

Tucker Bows To Chamblee

By BOBBY FIELDS

An 85-yard touchdown gallop by Jim Reese in the fourth quarter highlighted Chamblee's 13-0 victory over Tucker Friday night in a Southwest DeKalb League game on the Chamblee field.

What was actually the winning touchdown resulted from a 60-yard drive in the second period. Jim Lightsey bulldozed through the middle for the last five yards and the points.

David Frazier's 60-yard sprint in the fourth quarter gave Tucker a scoring chance in the final quarter, but the Chamblee line braced at its own nine.

Tackle Billy Poole and End Jim Ambrose turned in sparkling defensive performances for Chamblee, and Guard Larry Bolton and Halfback Mackie Waters were in on most of the Tucker tackles.

Ham Romps As Forsyth Wins, 34-7

FORSYTH, Oct. 13—A back named Ham proved anything but tasty to a scrappy band of Eatonton Blue Devils as he scored three times to lead the Forsyth Bulldogs to a 34-7 win Friday night.

Cecil Ham took over after Bennie Smarr had scored the first Bulldog touchdown in the first quarter, and added points in the second, third and fourth stanzas. His scores were made on two 20-yard runs and a 10-yard jaunt.

The final touchdown in Forsyth's fourth win without defeat was contributed by Killis Bennett who plunged over from the Blue Devil two-yard line in the final period.

Morris Leads Marietta To Victory Over Fulton

By JIM McLENDON

A hurdling halfback, James Morris, led Marietta in a victory over the Fulton Redbirds Friday night. The Blue Devils outpointed Fulton, 24-12, on the College Park field.

Morris, who was state hurdles champion last Spring, scored twice and threatened constantly. The shifty speedster, especially dangerous on end sweeps and punt returns, carried the ball 11 times for 68 yards—a 6.1 average.

Marietta received and immediately marched for a score. Bill Carrington's pass to Buddy Jones scored from Fulton's 36. Fulton lost ground on an exchange of punts, and the Devils took possession at midfield. Bobby Hudson and Johnny McCollum collaborated to advance to the 39. Then Morris pushed over with runs of 13 and 26 yards.

A bad pass from center and a weak punt helped the Blue Devils tally their last two scores. Jerry Terrell was back to kick on his 10, but he had to chase the ball to the one, and was downed there. Morris scored two plays later from the two. Attempting to punt again in the last quarter, Terrell was badly rushed and booted short to the 30. Hudson and Carrington made gains, and McCollum ran from the 19 to score.

Fulton made a fourth quarter comeback bid against the Marietta reserves, and scored two quick touchdowns to salve the defeat. Frank Fletcher collected the first six points on a 40-yard run. Joe Etheridge made the second from the eight after Earl Moore had covered a Blue Devil fumble.

Rome's Hilltoppers Stop Roosevelt's Tide, 19-6

By BOB HANSON
Special to The Atlanta Journal-Constitution

ROME, Oct. 13—Rome's Hilltoppers rolled out a stiff ground attack and took advantage of the breaks Friday night to defeat Roosevelt's Crimson Tide by a decisive 19-7 score.

Rome got the jump in the first period when fullback Kenneth Johnston broke through tackle, and raced 66 yards to the goal line.

In the third period, the Hilltoppers took the kickoff and drove 66 yards with Sammy Donaldson plunging over from the 2-yard line to climax the drive.

Pass interceptions by both teams on successive plays in the third period eventually led to Roosevelt's only score. A Roosevelt downfield drive was momentarily stopped on the Rome 28-yard line by a pass interception. But on the next play the Hilltoppers also tried the aerial route and the Atlanta team regained possession, driving on to the 5-yard line, from where Melvin Barber carried it over.

Later in the final period Roosevelt's Ernest Massey again attempted a pass deep in his own territory only to have Rome guard Johnny Pagura intercept the toss and charge over from the six.

Roosevelt's Bert King made the longest run of the night midway the game. Grabbing the ball from the middle of a pileup of players he ran 50 yards before being caught on the Rome 21 by Earl Wiggins.

Druid Hills Rolls Over Lithonia

By JIMMY WALKER

LITHONIA, Oct. 13—A split-T Druid Hills backfield roared to five touchdowns as the Red Devils dumped Lithonia, 31-7, Friday night.

Bob Longshore led the scoring parade with 13 points. He scored two touchdowns and converted once.

Bill Orkin, a guard, broke into the scoring act with the other Devil TD in the third period, when he recovered a fumble in the end zone.

The home team put on a passing display in the second half that netted 100 yards with three completions.

A 44-yard pass play from Steward Wiggins to Jim Casteel put the Bulldogs on the Devils' eight in the last period. Two plays later Bill Davidson went over for the score.

Bennie Seal, Jim Goodson and Jon Concord led the winners in line play while John Biffle was a defensive standout for the losers.

Score by quarters:

Druid Hills	6	12	6	7	—31
Lithonia	0	0	0	7	— 7

Jordan Nips Baker, 7-0

By ELWOOD MOYER

COLUMBUS, Oct. 13—Jordan's Red Jackets capitalized on a first period break and then staved off several Baker Village threats to defeat their crosstown rivals, 7-0, here Friday night.

On the seventh play of the game Jim Ward fumbled and Bob Chamblis recovered for the Jackets on the Lions' 26.

Bill Meadows ran the ball 12 yards to the 14. Chamblis then went off tackle 14 yards for the score. Frank Borders converted.

Baker came back in the first period with a 61-yard drive that stalled on the Jordan 5. The Lions traveled to the 11-yard line in the second period and again failed to push across the double stripe.

The Jordan line again repulsed the Lions in the third period as the Baker team drove to the one-yard line only to lose the ball on downs.

Score by quarters:

Jordon	7	0	0	0	—7
Baker	0	0	0	0	—0
Jordan	7	0	0	0	—7

Elsas, Lavin Win Two-Ball

Paul Lavin, assistant professional at North Fulton golf course, teamed with Mrs. C. E. Elsas to win the second annual North Fulton Scotch twosome tournament Friday.

They posted a net 72 to win out by a single stroke over Pro Darwin White and Frances Lazarus.

Sgt. Petrie and WAC Capt. Pat Grant, of Fort McPherson, took third prize with a net 74.

All participants enjoyed a chicken barbecue dinner as the guest of North Fulton Golf Association Friday night. Prizes were awarded to the winners and to every lady to participate. Marshall Mauldin supervised both the tournament and the barbecue.

Tornado Storms to 6th Win

By JESSE BRADSHAW

Murphy spotted Parker High, of Greenville, S. C., two touchdowns, then put on a determined rally in the final quarter only to see it fall short, 14-13.

The Golden Tornadoes racked up their sixth straight.

Parker scored early in the second quarter on a beautiful 81-yard run by Danny Byers. Rucker kicked the point.

Parker came back in the third quarter with Billy Joe Robertson taking the kick-off on his own 15. He returned to the Murphy 36. It took the Tornadoes only seven plays to score again with Robertson going the last six yards. Once again Rucker split the uprights.

The Eagles of Red Ivey began to move late in the third quarter with Madison Smith going over from four yards out. The drive went 61 yards. Smith's try was wide.

The Eagles caught fire again and marched 75 yards to another touchdown, on a 39-yard pass, Elmer Kirk to Colvin Heist. Smith's kick was good.

Bobby Helms played a fine game for the Eagles. Colvin Heist also came in for his share of glory. Morrison, Gene Purcell and Earl Alliston stood out in the backfield.

Standouts for Parker were Robertson, Byers and Boyce Benjamin.

Spalding Surprises Lee, 12-2

GRIFFIN, Oct. 13—Spalding's surprising Wolfpack toppled R. E. Lee from the unbeaten ranks, 12-2, here Friday night in a stunning upset.

Coach Kimsey Stewart's Wolfpack struck for their first touchdown in the opening quarter. A 63-yard drive carried to the Rebel 13, where the teams exchanged fumbles. Capitalizing on their second chance, Charles Carlyle plowed across from the three.

Score by quarters:

Scoring touchdowns: Spalding—Carlyle, Waller (on pass from Trenton).

Baugh To Play Against Cardinals

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—(AP)—Trainer Eddie Anderson said Friday that "Slingin' Sammy" Baugh will be back in action for the Washington Redskins' next game against the Chicago Cardinals Oct. 22.

Baugh, who injured his right elbow against the Pittsburgh Steelers two weeks ago, was kept out of the New York Giants game last Sunday except for holding the ball for point-after-touchdown conversions.

Rockmart Smashes Cartersville, 28-6

By JACK JACKSON

CARTERSVILLE, Oct. 13—A brilliant Max Mason and a devastating Rockmart High football team shattered Cartersville's myth of invincibility with a smashing 28-6 victory Friday night before an overflow crowd of better than 5,000 fans.

It was Rockmart's game throughout and Mason's from his first scrimmage effort, a 23-yard dash around end. The 192-pound halfback scored twice, passed for a third and set up the other. He took a physical beating, but they could not keep him down.

Mason's work included 142 yards gained on 15 rushes, three completed passes in five attempts, 83 yards running with intercepted passes and one 48-yard punt return.

Lamar Leachman, Cartersville's heralded back, did a workmanlike job but was ineffective against Rockmart's big line. That line gave all appearances of being one of Georgia's best, regardless of classification.

Rockmart now seems headed for the Region 3-A title. Newnan—beaten by Cartersville two weeks ago—offers the most serious threat.

The Jackets wasted little time starting the victory march. They kicked off and forced a punt. Hayden Hooper, Mason's capable running mate, returned to the Rockmart 35. On the first play, Mason circled right end for 23 yards. After Hooper and Doug Vinings plunged to the Hurricane 34, Mason burst up the middle and went all the way. He converted and it was 7-0.

On the last play of the first quarter, Mason made the first of his interceptions and it set up another score. He returned Leachman's pass 41 yards to the Hurricane 21. Hooper got one and an offside penalty moved it to the 15 from where Mason passed to Sam Parker for the touchdown. He converted again.

At that point, Cartersville came to life. The Hurricane drove 60 yards to score with Leachman doing the work. He passed to Jack Mansfield for 20 and ran for 21 himself en route. From the six, Leachman raced over. His pass for the extra point was no good.

Rockmart drove again to the Cartersville 21, but lost the ball there. Then, as time ran out, Mason intercepted Bobby Dodd's pass and ran 33 yards to the Hurricane nine. Hooper got five, but the half ended there.

The third quarter was scoreless, but early in the fourth, the Jackets drove 42 yards to score again. Bobby Camp sneaked over from the one and Mason converted. Incidentally, Max set that one up with a 48-yard punt return.

Just for good measure, Mason raced 37 yards to score again after he had intercepted Leachman's pass. Naturally, he converted again.

Kids To Win In Service Tilt

No matter what the score is after Saturday afternoon's Little Army-Navy contest between the Camp Jejeune Marines and Turner Air Force Base, the winners have already been chosen. And the victory will be a multiple one.

This is the second of the annual contests to raise funds so that deserving children whose fathers were killed in action in World War II can get an education. These kids will be the winners.

Those who view the game will also win a victory for themselves. They not only get a chance to contribute to a worthwhile cause. They will see two top-notch service teams clash in bigtime football style.

Game time is 2 p. m. and the place is Grady Stadium. The opportunity is there for those who care to take advantage of it.

Bowling Singles

Atlanta's top women and men bowlers will open the Fall tournament at Lucky Strike Alleys.

The tournament will be conducted over the seven-game route for both men and women. Entries will be accepted at 6 and 8 p. m. Saturday.

Battle Growing Over TV Edict

By PAUL JONES

Don't call the junk dealer yet.

That TV set you've been using for the past three months isn't obsolete in spite of the FCC grant to CBS to go ahead with its "Rube Goldberg" color system.

Opposition to the FCC policy has blossomed into a real cat and dog fight. Charges by major radio and TV appliance manufacturers that the CBS color device is a "Rube Goldberg" system have been coupled with other charges the system is "impractical, premature and unwise."

Most outspoken critic of the CBS grant was Dr. W. R. G. Baker, of General Electric, who said the FCC action is comparable to a hypothetical order from the government that "on and after Jan. 1, 1951, all railroads should be equipped with jet-propelled locomotives."

Notwithstanding the outburst of criticism, which is sure to wind up in a heated court battle, many things are involved in the color TV system.

First of all, any color television will be slow in reaching the country's 107 stations which would have to be converted to receive the tinted image. Colorvising represents greater budget costs—and, when and if accepted, more than 8,000,000 sets in use now would have to be converted at a cost of $125—more or less, to take the multi-hued pictures.

Furthermore, if we were set to take color TV now, color picture size could not exceed 12½ inches even though 90 per cent of sets now in use are that big or larger. A special switch would be required to enable a 16-inch tube to take theh 12½-inch maximum picture.

Atlantans apparently were not putting stock in the color future. Retailers in this area reported sales of black and white receivers were continuing brisk.

"We have an inquiry now and then about color TV, but interest wanes when buyers are told the picture will only be 12½ inches in size," said a dealer.

Significant of the situation is the fact that CBS jubilantly announced on the day of the FCC grant "good news for TV," while NBC failed to mention it at all.

BUSINESS

'Horatio Alger' Winner Sees Wage, Price Curbs

A final round of wage and price increases this Fall will bring Federal controls early next year, America's "Horatio Alger" industrialist said here Friday.

Alex M. Lewyt, President of the Lewyt Corporation, contract manufacturing firm of New York, said the final round of wage increases probably would get under way this month with steel setting the pattern for industry.

According to the 41-year-old millionaire-inventor, the wage hikes will force prices up and wage-price controls will follow. He predicted controls would come "sometime after the first quarter of 1951."

In Atlanta to address the Atlanta Sales Executive Club Friday night, Lewyt also forecast a rosy outlook for business in general.

Curb Statism, Ohioan Warns

The greatest danger facing America today is the threat of "statism" from within, an outstanding Ohio businessman and attorney said Friday night.

Ralph Bessee, Vice President and general counsel of the Cleveland Electric and Illuminating Company, told the Atlanta Lawyers' Club that unless the trend toward statism in this country is curbed, the American people must prepare themselves for a new form of government.

"It's a revolution," he told the lawyers, "a revolution financed by taxes." He warned that unless the people themselves call a halt on "expanding government regulations" they face possible loss of "human rights."

Fish Reward Safe Drivers

Given his choice, the average truck driver would rather have a paid vacation at a Florida fishing resort than a plaque citing him for an outstanding safety record on the highways.

This is the principle upon which Sidney Allen, president and founder of Central Truck Lines has built a $5,000,000 a year hauling business. His drivers push some 400 big trucks over the roads from Atlanta and Miami, Florida and those who have top safety records get an extra week's vacation with pay at the company-owned fishing resort on the fish-filled Homosassa River on the west coast of Florida.

The story of how accident-insurance rebates in two years paid for the $100,000 camp for a truck line which began as an idea of a red-headed English truck driver appears in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

Lint Import To Rescue State Mills

Truman Admits Egyptian Staple

Georgia's sewing thread mills, leading all other States in production of this vital commodity, received cheering news Friday when President Truman opened the way for imports of an additional 7,500,000 pounds of long-staple Egyptian-type cotton by Jan. 31.

Without it, many Georgia mills faced shutdowns, curtailment or conversion due to lack of the proper quality long-stapled cotton.

Imports of Egyptian-type cotton will not affect domestic cotton markets, since American cotton has shorter staple and different fiber construction.

The President's action, taken upon recommendation of the Tariff Commission, points out the foreign cotton may be brought in this country or withdrawn from warehouses "in accordance with the essential needs of persons or firms engaged in cotton manufacturing, as determined by the Tariff Commission."

Cotton involved is from 1⅜ inches to 1 11/16 inches in staple length.

Backbone of Georgia's recently enlarged sewing thread industry is the Clark Thread Company, with mills at Austell, Acworth, Pelham, Thomasville, Toccoa and Albany, and the American Thread Company, with mills in Georgia at Dalton, Tallapoosa and Newnan.

More than a quarter of a million spindles make sewing thread in this State and thousands of people are employed by the mills.

Grains Close Mostly Higher

CHICAGO, Oct. 13—(AP)—Soybeans found the going a little rough but the rest of the grain market held up well Friday.

Beans had to take quite a bit of hedging as harvesting and marketing of the new crop expanded. Favorable weather for continuation of this work was predicted for the week end. Support came in part from previous short sellers who were accepting profits.

Most other cereals eased with soybeans during the morning. However, no urgent selling developed. Toward the finish a little timid buying lifted prices minor fractions above the previous close.

Wheat closed ⅜ lower to ¼ higher, December $2.22¾-⅝, corn was ⅜-⅝ higher, December $1.47½-⅜, oats were unchanged to ⅜ higher, December 81¾, rye was ¼-⅜ higher, December $1.42⅞, soybeans were 1⅛ to 3 cents lower, November $2.31¾-2.32, and lard was unchanged to 7 cents a hundred pounds higher, October $12.40.

Steelworkers Ask New Pay Boost

CLEVELAND, Oct. 15—(AP)—Steel Magazine said Friday the CIO United Steelworkers' reported demands for a 25-cent hourly pay boost probably could be settled quickly for 15 cents an hour and that an increase of about $5 a ton in steel prices would follow.

Price Boosted In Newsprint

MONTREAL, Oct. 13—(AP)—The Powell River Paper Company of Vancouver has increased newsprint prices $10 a ton, and a wave of similar boosts may spread among all Canadian producers.

Most other newsprint makers, however, are sitting tight at the moment, offering no comment for publication on the action of the Vancouver Company.

Spokesmen for two Newfoundland newsprint companies did say neither plans an increase in price at present but they disagreed on the aftermath of the Powell River announcement.

H. M. Lewin, general manager of Bowaters (Newfoundland) pulp and Paper Mills at Corner Brook, Nfld., said the Powell River action could be the forerunner of a general newsprint price increase.

But a spokesman for the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company at Grand Falls, Nfld., disagreed, saying a general price increase would not necessarily follow.

Pulp Group Sets Savannah Meet

SAVANNAH, Oct. 13—(AP)—The Technical Association of the pulp and paper industry will meet here next year, it is announced.

Paper-makers from all over the country will attend the meeting Oct. 15-18 of next year. A. E. Bachman, of the Missisquoi Corporation, Sheldon Springs, Vt., is president of the Association.

The organization met in Savannah in 1937.

Newsprint Curbs Set for Britain

LONDON, Oct. 13—(AP)—The British press was notified Friday that the shortage of newsprint is forcing reinstatement Oct. 22 of the wartime newsprint ration system.

As a result, newspapers in this country will be forced either to freeze their circulations at present levels, or cut their size below the present six pages daily in order to print more copies.

Cotton Futures Close Mixed

NEW YORK, Oct. 13—(AP)—Cotton futures moved over a fairly wide range Friday in nervous dealings. Confusion over the sharp export curbs by the Department of Agriculture brought in further liquidation. Hedge selling was also extensive. However, the market at times rallied sharply as the break in prices this week brought in considerable mill covering against textile sales. Gains in futures at one time extended to almost $2.50 a bale.

The New York Cotton Exchange Service estimated domestic cotton consumption for the five-week period Aug. 27-Sept. 30 at 950,000 bales, compared with 808,000 in the four-week period July 30-Aug. 26, and 710,000 in the calendar month of September a year ago. The daily rate of use Aug. 27-Sept. 30 was 38,800 bales, against 40,400 in the period July 30-Aug. 26, and 32,600 in the calendar month of September a year ago.

In the first report on the 1950 cotton loan, the CCC reported 1,074 bales of the 1950 crop had entered the loan to Oct. 5. Repossession of the 1949 loan cotton was 18,745 bales for the week ended Oct. 5, leaving a net stock of 106,695 bales in Government hands.

There were six October transferable notices issued at New York Friday.

Futures closed $1.60 a bale lower to 20 cents higher than the previous close.

Stein's Opens Revamped Store

Five top officials of Stein's, nation-wide clothing chain, joined local officials of the company here Thursday for the formal opening of the completely remodeled store at Peachtree Street and Auburn Avenue.

A new stock of merchandise was one feature of the opening. Cost of the remodeling was approximately $75,000.

With William Shulman, general manager of the entire chain, at the opening were Murray Woltag, district supervisor; M. E. Gilman, advertising manager; Thomas Perccaccio, merchandising manager, and Morris Norwood, district supervisor.

Local officers were Harry Schecter, manager of Stein's here since it opened 20 years ago, and H. P. George, assistant manager. The chain, started in 1925 by Joseph F. Stein, president, now has 65 stores in the southeast.

Coffee Market

NEW YORK, Oct. 13—(AP)—Limited gains were registered in Santos coffee futures Friday. Brazilian interests were heavy buyers. Traders attributed most of the upturn to private cables in which Getulio Vargas, generally conceded to be the next President of Brazil, was reported to have told political leaders that he favors all measures to support the coffee industry. Vargas was further said to be against devaluation of the cruzeiro.

The green coffee market was firm. Over the Thursday holiday one independent roaster reduced wholesale prices one to two cents a pound, which was the first reduction since last Spring. The decline was based on lower green coffee prices prevailing at the moment.

Senator LeBlanc and Hadacol say . . . "Thank You ATLANTA"
THE LeBlanc CORPORATION LAFAYETTE, LOUISIANA
September 22, 1950
AN OPEN LETTER:
Immediately upon my return to my office, it affords me pleasure to write this open letter, addressed to all who helped to make the recent HADACOL Good-Will Tour such a gigantic success.
Everywhere I brought the show, we were received with open arms by countless thousands. I am genuinely proud of the fact that the show obviously was enjoyed by everyone who saw it.
The success of this tour was not only due to the untiring efforts of our personnel, but I want to take this opportunity to publicly thank the personnel of the radio stations and of the newspapers; the city officials and members of the police forces, and all of the hundreds and hundreds of good people, particularly the ladies, who worked untiringly in the various cities which we visited.
I use this means to extend my thanks and gratitude because it would be impossible for me to write a personal letter to all those who have helped and cooperated with us, since there are so many whose names I do not know. I assure you that I will continue my efforts to advertise our section of this nation and to do all I can to successfully carry out certain undertakings which will add to the health and happiness of all my fellow citizens.
Again thanking you many, many times, I remain
Sincerely and gratefully yours,
DUDLEY J. LeBLANC, President

OBITUARY

Mrs. Nancy G. Aven

Mrs. Nancy Gordon Aven, 62, of 619 Bonaventure Ave., N. E., Atlanta's oldest policewoman, died early Friday morning in a private hospital after an extended illness.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p. m. Saturday in St. Paul Methodist Church. The Rev. A. C. Peacock, the Rev. Tom Shackelford, and the Rev. Claude Hendricks will officiate. Burial will be in West View Cemetery.

A member of the police force since April 30, 1937, Mrs. Aven handled hundreds of cases, most of them dealing with delinquent juvenile girls. Born in Heard County, near Franklin, she was brought to Atlanta as a girl, and had lived here more than 50 years.

Mrs. Aven was a member of St. Paul Methodist Church, Daughters of the American Revolution, Order of the Eastern Star, and the Redmen's Wigwam.

Surviving are two sons, Carl C. Aven, Jr., and Gordon W. Aven; three brothers, J. P. and H. K. Gordon, all of Atlanta, and T. S. Gordon, of Monticello, and four grandchildren.

William J. Bankston

William James Bankston, 81, retired merchant and farmer, and father of three Atlantans, died early Friday at his home in Jenkinsburg, following a long illness.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Saturday in Jenkinsburg Methodist Church. The Rev. Gene Askew and the Rev. Ralph Shea will officiate.

Mr. Bankston, a former Justice of the Peace and member of Butts County's Democratic Executive Committee, was the father of Mrs. H. A. Maddox, Mrs. J. J. Williamson and G. D. Bankston, all of Atlanta.

Member of a pioneer Butts County family, he was a son of the late John Bankston and Sara Dawson Bankston. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

Other survivors are a daughter, Mrs. W. H. Barnes, of Thomaston; three sons, J. A. Bankston, of Hanford, Wash.; J. G. Bankston, of Jackson, and R. D. Bankston, of Thomaston; several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Ada E. Roden

Mrs. Ada Eleanor Roden, 77, of 217 Berean Ave., S. E., died Friday at the residence after a long illness. She was the widow of William Calvin Roden.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Sunday in Friendship Baptist Church. The Rev. Clarence Maddox and the Rev. Guy Rainwater will officiate. Burial will be in Mount Paran Baptist Churchyard.

Born near Sand Mountain, Ala., Mrs. Roden grew up and married there, coming to Atlanta 34 years ago. She was a member of Emanuel Baptist Church.

Surviving are six sons, Walter, George, E. D., Gilbert, Buford and W. H. Roden; two daughters, Mrs. Jim Wallace and Mrs. Z. Starling, and a sister, Mrs. Ida Phillips O'Shields.

Thomas C. Vienhage

Thomas Charles Vienhage, 81, retired postal clerk, of 977 N. Highland Ave., N. E., died Friday morning at the residence after a long illness.

Rosary will be said at 8 p. m. Saturday in the chapel of Greenberg & Flinn, Inc. The body will be taken to Cincinnati, Ohio, for burial.

A resident of Atlanta 15 years, Mrs. Vienhage came here from Cincinnati, Ohio, where he was with the U. S. Post Office for 44 years. He was a member of Sacred Heart Church and Holy Name Society.

Surviving are his wife; a son, C. J. Vienhage, of Atlanta, and two sisters, Misses Josephine and Clara Vienhage, both of Cincinnati.

Robert S. Andrews

Robert S. Andrews, 87, of 119 Vannoy St., S. E., died Friday in a private hospital after a long illness. He was the father of R. S. Andrews, Jr., operator of Andrews' Flower Shop.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. Sunday in Stinchcomb Methodist Church, near Elberton. Burial will be in the churchyard.

A native of Elbert County, Mr. Andrews lived and farmed there until 1919, when he came to Atlanta. Befoe his retirement in 1930, he had worked as a foreman-painter in Atlanta buggy shops. He was a member of Inman Park Methodist Church.

Besides his son, he is survived by two other sons, H. W. and C. M. Andrews, both of Washington, D. C.; four daughters, Mrs. W. H. Christian, Mrs. S. N. Bone, Mrs. F. J. Butler and Mrs. V. C. Hayne; two brothers, Griffin and Oliver Carrough; 24 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Sallie E. Hill

Graveside services for Mrs. Sallie E. Hill, of 705 Piedmont Ave., N. E., who died Thursday night at the residence, will be held Sunday afternoon in Magnolia Cemetery, Augusta.

Mrs. Hill was the widow of Paul Hill.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Pauline Woodward, Mrs. G. B. Matthews and Mrs. A. F. Stewart; a sister, Mrs. C. G. Green; a brother, T. F. Prescott; two grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Ronald Stephen Sims

Ronald Stephen Sims, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Sims, of 100 Warner St., Forest Park, died Friday afternoon in a private hospital.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p. m. Saturday in Moseley Drive Baptist Church. The Rev. A. C. Stephens will officiate.

INVITATION FOR BIDS

The Department of State Parks, 418 State Capitol, Atlanta, Georgia, will receive bids until 2:00 o'clock p. m. Eastern Standard Time, Monday, November 13, 1950, for the furnishing of all labor, material, equipment and services required for the construction of a swimming pool, bath house and fountain at Georgia Veterans Memorial State Park, Crisp County near Cordele, Georgia. All bids will be opened publicly and read aloud at the above time and place.

Proposed forms of contract documents including plans and specifications are on file at the office of the Department of State Parks, the offices of the Architects, Fuller & Beckett, 88 Walton St., N. W., Atlanta, Georgia, at the offices of the Dixie Contractor, P. W. Dodge Corporation, and the Builders Exchange, all of Atlanta, and the office of the Crisp County Commissioners at Cordele, Georgia.

Copies of the documents may be obtained by depositing $25.00 with the Department of State Parks for each set of documents so obtained. Such deposit will be refunded to each bona fide bidder who returns the plans, specifications and other documents in good condition within 10 days after opening of the bids. No bid of more than 130% of the qualified low bid will be considered as a qualified bid for the purpose of making refunds.

A certified check, bank draft or satisfactory bid bond executed by the bidder, payable to the Department of State Parks in amount equal to 5% of the bid shall be submitted with each bid.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a 100% performance bond for the satisfactory completion of the work.

The Department of State Parks reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any informalities in the bidding. No bid shall be withdrawn for a period of 30 days subsequent to the opening of bids without the consent of the Department of State Parks.

A. N. MOYE, Director,
Department of State Parks,
418 State Capitol,
Atlanta, Georgia.

NOTICE OF SALE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Forsyth, Georgia, will receive sealed bids up to 7:00 p. m., E.S.T., on the 29th day of October, 1950, and at said hour and on said date in the City Hall in the City of Forsyth, will open such bids and will award to the highest bidder $75,000.00 principal amount of Water and Sewerage Revenue Anticipation Certificates of said City of an authorized issue of $200,000.00, said $75,000.00 principal amount of certificates to be dated October 1, 1950, in denominations of $1,000.00 each, bearing interest at the rate of two and one-half (2½%) per centum per annum, payable semi-annually on the 1st days of April and October in each year, and the principal shall mature in annual installments on the 1st day of October, $3,000.00 in each of the years 1951 to 1975, inclusive. The principal and interest on said certificates are payable at par at Citizens Bank of Forsyth, Georgia.

Said certificates are authorized and being sold for the purpose of improving, repairing, making additions, extensions, alterations and improvements to its water and sewerage system, and the principal of and interest on said certificates are payable solely from a proportionate portion of the gross revenues of said system, the City having pledged fifty (50%) per cent of the gross revenues of the said system for that purpose. From the percentage of revenues pledged, the City has agreed to pay, beginning November, 1950, the sum of $475.00 per month to October, 1960, inclusive, and beginning with the month of November, 1960, the sum of $325.00 per month to October, 1965, inclusive; and beginning in November, 1965, the sum of $300.00 per month until sufficient funds are on hand to pay all outstanding certificates at their respective maturities and the interest which will become due and payable thereon.

21-Gun Rites For Negro GI

A 21-volley rifle salute roared out over Marietta National Cemetery Friday as full military funeral rites were accorded Negro Sgt. John H. Hunter, 28, the first of Atlanta's Korean war dead brought home for burial.

The body of Sgt. Hunter, who was killed in action Sept. 3, arrived in Atlanta Wednesday morning. He was the son of Mrs. Viola J. Hunter, of 139 Stafford St., S. W.

As his flag-draped coffin was lowered into the grave, a seven-man honor guard fired three rounds, following a message by Army Reserve Chaplain Ira H. Giles, of Morris Brown College.

Army pallbearers escorted the Negro sergeant's coffin from Springfield Baptist Church, where services were held at 1 p. m., with the Rev. O. C. Woods officiating.

A veteran of more than 10 years' Army service, Sgt. Hunter reenlisted after serving during World War II. He attended Booker T. Washington High School and was a Boy Scout.

Burial will be in West View Cemetery.

Besides the parents, the child is survived by maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Sims, of Clarkesville, and paternal grandfather, O. O. Staples; great-grandfather, W. J. Burrell, and great-grandmother, Mrs. H. P. Pattersal.

Mrs. Samuel Martin

Mrs. Isabel Bowie Martin, 91, of 1198 Piedmont Ave., N. E., died Friday morning in a private hospital. Mrs. Martin had been in failing health for the past two weeks.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p. m. Sunday at Spring Hill. Dr. Stewart R. Oglesby and Dr. Claude Prichard will officiate. Burial will be in Oakland Cemetery.

Born on a South Carolina plantation on Dec. 6, 1858, Mrs. Martin came to Atlanta when her family moved here in 1870. The widow of Samuel Martin, who died in 1924, Mrs. Martin was a member of Central Presbyterian Church.

Surviving are a son, J. Bowie Martin; two sisters, Mrs. J. J. Gonzales and Mrs. T. J. Barnard, and three nieces, Mrs. Lucy Peebles, Mrs. Charles Hardy Fair and Miss Isabel Akers.

Mrs. E. D. Saye

Mrs. Eugenia Alice (Jennie) Saye, 81, of 1365 Fairbanks Ave., S. W., died Friday morning at the residence after a short illness. She was the widow of E. D. Saye.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in the chapel of J. Austin Dillon Company. The Rev. George Scothmer and the Rev. C. E. Piephoff will officiate. Burial will be in Hollywood Cemetery.

Mrs. Saye, born in Marietta, spent most of her life in Atlanta. She was a member of Pryor Street Presbyterian Church.

Surviving are four sons, Claude D. Saye, of East Point; Clarence M. Saye, of Atlanta and H. E. and E. W. Saye, both of Acron, Ohio; two daughters-in-law, Mrs. Clifford W. Saye and Mrs. Lula Bell Saye; two sisters, Mrs. W. C. Davis and Mrs. Ben T. Jerome, both of Atlanta, and six grandchildren.

Truman G. Moore

Funeral services for Truman G. Moore, of 2984 Carrol Ave., Chamblee, who died Thursday night in Lawson VA Hospital, will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday in West View Chapel. The Rev. J. Howell Hearn will officiate. Burial will be in Marietta National Cemetery.

Surviving are his wife; and two daughters, Mrs. J. T. McMichaels and Mrs. T. H. Barker, both of Winston-Salem, N. C.

John T. Aughtmon

John Thomas Aughtmon, 40, of 331 Fifth St., N. W., died Friday in a hospital at Wilson, N. C., of complications following an appendectomy.

Mr. Aughtmon was connected with the Enby Brothers Shows. Funeral arrangements will be announced by West View Funeral Home.

John W. Ward

John W. Ward, 74, of 220 Wellington St., S. W., drygoods salesman, died in a private hospital Friday night as the result of a skull fracture received in a bathtub fall.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Sunday in Calvary Methodist Church. The Rev. L. B. Jones will officiate. Burial will be in College Park Cemetery.

Born in Troup County, Mr. Ward attended Troup High School and came to Atlanta as a young man, first working here as a salesman for John L. Silvey Company, wholesale drygoods firm. At his death, he was connected with P. F. Hollander & Company, umbrella manufacturers.

Mr. Ward, a member of Calvary Methodist Church, was a Sunday School teacher and a member of Rice Leaders of the World.

Surviving are his wife; two sons, John W. Ward, Jr., of Atlanta, and Bowden W. Ward, of Richmond, Va., and four grandchildren.

Mrs. Alice Davis Goins

Mrs. Alice Davis Goins, 82, of 873 Bankhead Ave., N. W., died Friday night at the residence after a long illness.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon in the chapel of Awtry & Lowndes. Burial will be in Locust Grove Baptist chuchyard.

Born in Locust Grove, Mrs. Goins attended schools there before coming to Atlanta 60 years ago. She was the widow of William P. Goins.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Martha Langford and Miss Georgia Davis, and numerous nieces and nephews.

5 Killed in Accidents; Students Survive Crash

Accidents claimed the lives of five persons in Georgia Friday and in Athens two University of Georgia students narrowly escaped death when their small plane overshot the airport.

Mrs. Tom Fulgham, 25, of Athens, was killed Friday night when the automobile in which she and her husband were riding collided with a car driven by Walter Stevens, 17, of Conley, at Harris Street, N. W., and Techwood Drive. Fulgham suffered minor injuries. Stevens was not hurt.

William H. Kent, of Fort Worth, Texas, was killed when his automobile overturned near Roberta.

A head-on crash into a truck two miles east of Hinesville took the life of L. G. Graham, 33, of Alamo, the Hinesville State Patrol District reported.

In Atlanta, a fall from a building at 290 Hunter St., N. E., fatally injured Ed Dawson, 80, of Mountain View, according to police.

Funeral arrangements for Mr. Dawson will be held at 11 a. m. Monday in Mountain View Baptist Church. The Rev. L. E. Smith and the Rev. Mr. Emery will officiate. Burial will be in West View Cemetery.

Surviving are his wife; a daughter, Mrs. W. M. Lyle, of Mountain View, and five grandchildren.

Near Gray, Mrs. J. F. Maier, of Atlanta, was killed and her husband seriously injured when their car smashed head-on into another vehicle. Their baby was riding in the car, but was unhurt. Driver of the second car involved was not identified by State Highway patrolmen.

In the Athens plane crash, Pilot Bob Hellams, of Clinton, S. C., and Romero Ariaces, of Havana, Cuba, both University of Georgia students, suffered minor injuries when their plane overshot Cherokee Airport.

Thousands Heart-Broken By U. S. Visa Freeze

LONDON, Oct. 13—(AP)—It was Black Friday, the Thirteenth, for hundreds of Germans, Austrians and Italians caught in the United States visa freeze.

The State Department order cancelling all visas issued by embassies abroad up to Oct. 12, and requiring their revalidation, hit thousands of Europeans headed for the United States.

For some of them, there were no serious consequences. U. S. consulates in a dozen major cities merely stamped their already visaed passports and they were free to sail or fly at once.

It was different for nationals of former enemy countries whose possible past connections with Communist, Nazi or Fascist organizations makes them targets of the new American anti-spy law.

In Frankfurt, Germany, Pan-American World Airways reported that 144 bookings to the United States had been cancelled during the past six days in the confusion over interpretation of the new law.

Of these, 67 were emigrants, left almost penniless because they had sold their remaining belongings to get the money needed to start a new life in America.

Cocke 'In,' Legionnaires Land Here

A triumphant "advance guard" of Atlanta American Legionnaires, who saw Georgia's Erle Cocke, Jr., sworn in as National Commander at the Legion's national convention in Los Angeles, flew into Atlanta early Friday.

The party of 56, including members of Atlanta Post Number One Drill Team and Drum and Bugle Corps and LaGrange Post Number 75 Color Guard, reported a nonstop six-hour-and-50-minute flight in a chartered plane from Los Angeles.

Cocke is not expected back in Georgia for several days, since he will make an 18-State tour in the interest of the Legion's program.

The group included J. Walter LeCraw, a member of the national Legion Committee on Americanism. LeCraw said the committee passed a number of important resolutions, including one advocating outlawing of the Communist party and asking for internment of known Communists "during the present emergency."

LeCraw said the committee also called upon all educational institutions to "make the history of the United States a required subject for graduation in all high schools and colleges."

Woman Found Dead, Throat Cut

Detectives Saturday were investigating the death of a middle-aged white woman discovered in a rest room of a building at 246½ Spring St., S. W., with her throat slashed.

In her possession, Det. J. W. Ellington said, was a train ticket from Orlando, Fla., to Cincinnati, Ohio, together with a return bus ticket.

Papers identified her as Miss Mabel Everett.

NEWLY ELECTED LIBRARY OFFICERS

FSU, Tech, Nashville Librarians Honored

Dr. Louis Shores of Florida State University was elected president of the Southeastern Library Association in a general session here Friday. Mrs. J. Henley Crosland, of Georgia Tech, was elected vice-president and Dr. Robert Alvarez, Nashville Public Library, secretary-treasurer.

Earlier Friday the SELA, representing 2,600 professional librarians in nine Southeastern states, adopted a new constitution to reorganize itself to promote the development of library resources and services on a regional basis.

"One of this nation's strongest defenses is an informed people," said Dr. Shores in commenting on the reorganization. "Our aim is to provide the population of the nine Southeastern states with every opportunity to become informed of public issues."

Samuel Gaillard Stone, of Charleston, S. C., was principal speaker at a Friday night banquet. The conference, the association's 14th, will close after a 10 a. m. business session Saturday.

France Asks $3,170,000,000 Arms Aid

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—(U.P.)—France asked the United States Friday for $3,170,000,000 in arms and money to build 10 divisions of troops for Europe and to supply arms to Indo-China in 1951.

The mammoth request was unfolded during closed door talks at the State Department between top-ranking American officials and French Defense Minister Jules Moch and French Finance Minister Maurice Petsche.

Tito To Ask U. S. Aid Against Famine

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Oct. 13—(AP)—Premier Marshal Tito officially notified United States Ambassador George V. Allen Friday that Yugoslavia soon will seek economic aid from the U. S. to prevent a famine in this country.

At the same time, Tanjung, the official news agency of Tito's government, denied reports that Yugoslavia has been seeking military aid from the west and negotiating for a pact with the Atlantic treaty nations.

Charge at Seagrave Trial Brings Laughter

RANGOON, Burma, Oct. 13—(AP)—A Kachin colonel in the Burmese army provoked laughter at the treason trial of Dr. J. Gordon S. Seagrave Friday when he said he considered the surgeon a Rebel sympathizer because the doctor never smiled at him.

The 53-year-old Seagrave, "Burma Surgeon" who saved numerous lives in North Burma during and after World War II, is facing charges, including high treason for allegedly aiding Karen Rebels.

Vargas Promises Socialistic Government

SAO PEDRO RANCH, Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil, Oct. 13—(U.P.)—Getulio Vargas said Friday that he will give Brazil a labor government patterned on those of Britain and the Scandinavian countries.

"It will be a government of evolution and not of revolution," he said. "This should be sufficiently tranquilizing for the conservative class in this country."

His regime will be dedicated to the democratic form of government, continued close friendship with the United States, inter-American solidarity and the use of foreign capital to aid in Brazil's development, Vargas said.

Fulton Man Indicted On 9 Burglary Counts

By FRANK MAJORS

Fulton County Grand Jurors Friday indicted Nelson Chandler, 27, of Ben Hill Road, on nine counts of burglary in a series of housebreaks in Atlanta and Fulton County during the Summer.

The property alleged to have been stolen included jewelry valued at $10,000 from the Atlanta home of Mrs. C. V. Cauble.

Other counts charged Chandler with the theft of valuables, including in some instances cash and pistols, from the following homes in the amounts listed:

J. L. Griggs, $125; H. M. Daniel, $302.50; Aubrey Cook, $107.50; John C. Davis, $75; Robert Barfield, $155; A. L. Proctor, $230; R. E. Baker, Jr., $222; William A. Knapp, Sr., $162.50.

Chandler was apprehended by Atlanta police.

In another burglary indictment, Johnny Edward Gordon and James Edward Green were charged with the Feb. 26 burglary of $1,986 from the Atlanta Variety Club.

Raises Retroactive

Fulton County employees, whose $20 monthly raises are retroactive to July 1, will receive the three months' accumulated increase with their October checks. Withholding deductions are being figured on the increased income tax rates now in effect, officials state.

CITY HALL NEWS

City Reports Progress With Flexible Signals

By HERMAN HANCOCK

Approximately 45 percent of Atlanta's downtown traffic signal installations will be on a "progressive, flexible" traffic control system by the end of this year, City Traffic Engineer Karl Bevins announced Friday.

This achievement, he said, will mark completion of a $40,000 modernization program in the first year's operation of the new City Traffic Engineering Department.

Bevins said he was pleased with progress made, but emphasized the work must proceed to keep pace with an ever-growing problem.

Bevins announced work would proceed at once on flexible, progressive signal system on Ivy and Courtland Streets and Piedmont Avenue and Ponce de Leon Avenue from Ponce de Leon Place to Moreland Avenue. Other improvements include installation of new timing devices at Fifth and West Peachtree and Fifth and Spring, Sixth and Spring, Moreland and Memorial and Moreland and Flat Shoals. Techwood and Fifth, and Georgia Avenue and McDaniel will get lights for the first time.

The city signal light at Peachtree and Foust Streets also will be tied in with the County system which extends out Peachtree Road so as to expedite the movement of traffic there.

Congratulates Cocke

Detour To Bring New Bus Schedules

The Atlanta Transit Company announced Friday that construction at North Avenue and Marietta Street will force re-scheduling of the Howell Mill Road—Inman Yards trackless trolley beginning Sunday.

Outbound detour will begin at Marietta and Corput Streets. The trolley will go via Corput to Plum, via Plum to North Avenue, via North Avenue to State Street via State Street to Wallace, and via Wallace back to Marietta Street. The inbound detour simply will reverse the outbound route.

Pistol-Carrying Molester Hunted

Detectives Saturday sought a tall, neatly dressed white man after a young Atlanta housewife said that he forced her into a car at pistol point in Piedmont Park.

The housewife told officers the man drove by and attempted to engage her in a conversation. He then drew a gun and ordered her to enter the car, "or else," she said.

As the driver stopped for a red light on Peachtree Road, she said, she jumped out and fled.

Mrs. J. T. Stilwell Dies at Residence

Mrs. J. T. Stilwell, 72, of 39 Fifteenth St., N. E., died Friday night at the residence. She was the widow of J. T. Stilwell.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by H. M. Patterson & Son.

She was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Hazel Walters Seadey, of Atlanta, and a brother, J. T. Hooks, of Desoto.

AHA Rents Up 304 Pct., Jackson Says

The Atlanta Housing Authority has increased rents on some of its 5,000 units by as much as 304 percent since 1942, Councilman James E. Jackson, long an advocate of rent decontrol, charged Friday.

The First Ward Councilman, who has urged that controls be lifted "so privately owned rental properties can find their level in an inflated economy," said the Housing Authority has hiked its rents based on the income of occupants while private owners have been forced to seek "meager" and inadequate increases from grudging rent control officials.

Jackson's blast followed a protest several days ago by Cone Maddox, Jr., chairman of the Housing and Rent Committee of the Atlanta Real Estate Board, who protested a Housing Authority petition to OPA to hike housing rents 15 percent, effective Nov. 1.

Maddox claimed the Housing Authority already had increased rents an average of 70 per cent since 1942. James H. Therrell, executive director of the Authority, promptly denied the assertion and contended only 415 "over income" families would be affected by a 15 percent increase.

In answer to Maddox' charges, Therrell had declared that rental ceilings had not been raised in the housing projects since 1942, when a sliding scale of rentals was authorized by the OPA based on the tenants' ability to pay.

"I have records to prove that a family of five with an income of $84 monthly paid $14 for a four-room housing apartment in 1942," Jackson said. "That same family and all others in the same status will pay $46 a month for the same quarters effective Nov. 1—an increase of 304 percent."

Talmadge Hints Sales Tax Assent

By M. L. ST. JOHN

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Oct. 13—One hundred per cent of Georgia's people must pay taxes if the next administration is to carry out its campaign platform and provide services for 100 per cent of the people, Gov. Talmadge said here Friday. It was the nearest he has come to indorsing the sales tax which is anticipated in January.

The Governor told the student body of Georgia State College for Women, and a group of newly nominated members of the Georgia Legislature here on an inspection trip, that he and "95 percent of the Legislature were elected on a platform of expanded State services which will cost an additional $50,000,000 to $60,000,000." Thirty percent of the people of Georgia cannot continue to carry the tax load if services are to be expanded, he added.

The visiting solon heard President Guy Wells urge construction of a new Science Building, which will cost $500,000. Wells also said that the school needs $350,000 to complete a demonstration school, and $250,000 to fireproof a dormitory.

The Legislators inspected a modern, one-story fireproof patio building nearing completion at the State hospital to replace a "firetrap" now housing Negro patients.

Gov. Talmadge Friday afternoon dedicated the Harry Bone bridge, between Milledgeville and the State Hospital.

Thompson Hits Unit Vote Plan

Former Acting Gov. M. E. Thompson, who endorsed the county unit system in his recent gubernatorial campaign, said here Friday that he was opposed to a proposed constitutional amendment which would extend the county unit system into the general election.

In a radio address, Thompson charged Gov. Talmadge was "calling up the race issue as a ghost in an effort to change the State constitution."

Sen. Rawls Predicts Sales Tax Passage

ALBANY, Oct. 13—(AP)—Sen.-Nominee H. Grady Rawls, of this city, who is a member of Gov. Talmadge's tax revision committee, said Friday he believes a three per cent across-the-board sales tax is a certainty.

Tied up with Federal Court proceedings last week, he was unable to attend the recent meeting in Atlanta of the Committee but said:

"There is no question in my mind but what the tax will be passed at the next session of the General Assembly in January."

Then he added: "We must raise an additional $60 million next year in order to equalize school facilities and that is the only way I can see to raise the money."

Henderson Condemned Second Time

CARROLLTON, Oct. 13—Clarence Henderson, 28-year-old Negro sharecropper, Friday for the second time was sentenced to die in the electric chair in the 1948 slaying of a Georgia Tech student.

Defense Atty. Dan Duke immediately filed a motion for a new trial. Carroll County Superior Court Judge Samuel J. Boykin set a hearing on the motion for Dec. 2.

The jury reached a verdict of guilty without a recommendation for mercy after more than seven hours of deliberation. Such a verdict automatically calls for the death penalty.

In contrast to the first one-day trial in January the latest hearing began Tuesday and extended through Thursday. The jury was reported deadlocked nine to three Thursday night.
